Vodrey Issues 'Back-To-Work' Order

A THIRD OF THE FORCE on duty in the East Liverpool police department this morning was represented by Chief A. J. Radeschi, who took over the duties of the desk officer at headquarters after most of the daylight shift reported off because of illness. Shown answering the phone at City Hall, the chief had two others to help police the city—Det. Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Patrolman Charles A. Winters.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey today issued a written "back-to-work" order to all members of East Liverpool's police and fire departments who had reported off duty, claiming illness, in an apparent move to enforce their demands for wage increases from Council.

With both the police and fire departments manned by skeleton forces, the director signed a letter to each man scheduled to work today telling them: "You are hereby notified to report for duty at once."

COUNCIL and city officials are "immediately available for good faith bargaining and negotiations regarding any requests or demands," the letter added.

The men's failure to report for duty is "an extreme hazard to the public safety. . ." it concluded.

The letter came out of a lengthy meeting that brought together Mayor George E. Willshaw, Vodrey, Solicitor J. Michael Kapp, Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne and Councilman James Lowe, chairman of the Council labor relations committee.

The "blue flu" as public employes term the wave of absenteeism because of illness, first hit the fire department at 7:45 a. m. Sunday when the usual shift change was scheduled. The Fraternal Order of Police Lodge had a special meeting late Sunday afternoon and most of the officers absented themselves last midnight at the time of the next scheduled shift change.

With all three outlying fire stations closed for lack of manpower, four men were manning Central Fire Station.

ONLY TWO men were on duty in the police department's midnight to 8 a. m. shift and three were at work on the 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. shift. Chief A. J. Radeschi was handling the desk at headquarters, with Det. Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Patrolman Charles A. Winters available to handle complaints and investigations. The three comprised the entire police force.

No other city departments were affected, officials reported.

Rank-and-file police and firemen draw $457 monthly after completion of a probation period.

No recent wage negotiations have been held between Council and spokesmen for the two departments.

Police and fire department spokesmen met in early April to draw up requests for wage boosts and improvements in working conditions. They termed the current scales for patrolmen and firemen "from $100 to $110 under the average for Ohio cities."

ALL CITY employes, including police and firemen, were given wage boosts and improved fringe benefits in the spring of 1967. The employes said at that time they felt their requests had not been met fully and they would approach Council again for further concessions.

The fire department has 31 men at full strength, but is short at least two at present. The police department has 26 men at full strnegth.

Kapp said the director's letter asking the men to return to work will be delivered personally to each fireman and policeman who had been slated to work today.

The letter says:

"Pursuant to a meeting held by the mayor, director of service-safety, city solicitor, fire department chief and Councilman James Lowe at 10 a. m. on the 24th day of June, 1968, the following results were reached:

1. You are hereby notified to report for duty at once.

2. The City Council and municipal officials are immediately available for good faith bargaining and negotiations regarding any requests or demands that you or your representatives may have.

3. This city considers the present failure to report for duty an extreme hazard to the public safety of the citizens of East Liverpool."

The two departments total 57 men. Patrolman James Buckley is head of the FOP and Fireman James Curry is president of Local 24, International Association of Firefighters.

Fire Chief Alfred J. Van Dyne and three others manned Central Station in the 24-hour shift that began Sunday morning. Four men also were scheduled to be on duty in the shift that started at 7:45 this morning, including the chief. Eight men reported off-duty because of illness in the fire department shift that was to begin at 7:45 a. m. yesterday.

Van Dyne said Asst. Chief Frank Butler telephoned him at his home Sunday at 7:30 a. m. and said: "You better get down here; we're not going to have any fire department." Then Butler explained that most of the men slated to begin the new shift had telephoned to report they were ill.

Van Dyne mobilized all available men at the Central Station and closed the North Side, Pleasant Heights and East End stations, which usually are manned by crews of two each.

Van Dyne advised Vodrey of the wave of absenteeism.

Unexpected Triumph

De Gaulle Forces Headed For Victory In Elections

By LOUIS NEVIN
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's forces appeared headed today for an overwhelming majority in the French National Assembly after strong gains in the first round of the national elections.

Left-wing extremists warned that "the battle has only begun" as preparations began for the runoff elections next Sunday.

Frightened by the May weeks of student violence and nationwide strikes, the French people heeded De Gaulle's theme of "Gaullism or Communism" and elected 142 of his followers Sunday.

Gaullist candidates also were in favorable positions for the runoff elections in 150 other districts, indicating that the president and Premier Georges Pompidou might win a majority of more than 100 in the 487-seat assembly.

In the last assembly the Gaullists and their allies had a majority of only one.

It was an unexpected triumph for the 77-year-old general who less than a month ago threatened to resign at the height of the national convulsion.

It was also a stinging defeat for De Gaulle's opponents of the center and left. Only 12 non-Gaullists were elected in the first round in Metropolitan France—6 Communists, 4 Centrists and two members of rightist parties. And in comparison with the vote in the first round of the 1967 general election, the Communists' percentage of the total vote dropped from 22.51 per cent to 20.03, the non-Communist Leftist Federation slipped from 18.06 to 16.50 and the Centrist Party of Modern Progress and Democracy declined from 12.34 to 10.64.

Despite the Gaullists' initial triumph at the polls, most of the problems that set off France's "mad month of May" remain unsolved, and the wholesale wage raises handed out to get 10-million striking workers back to their jobs will almost certainly bring widespread inflation.

Former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, a left-wing leader who was in trouble in the Grenoble district, warned the government that it probably would have trouble with "those who voted for it but who for all that are not ready to give up their demands."

Poor Group Set To Defy Move Order

Leader Announces Mass Arrests Will Be Sought Today

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police started a sweep at 11:20 a.m. through Resurrection City, the Poor People's encampment, to clear out any residents who remained after the 10:42 a.m. evacuation deadline, deputy chief Grant Wright of the U.S. Park Police announced.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Poor People's Campaign, defying a federal government order that it surrender its shantytown, mapped a march on the U.S. Capitol today to provoke mass arrests.

"We are all going to jail," demonstration leader Hosea Williams promised a high-spirited, hand-clapping crowd at the Resurrection City campsite Sunday night.

The official permit allowing the campaign demonstrators to live in their plywood settlement near the Lincoln Memorial ran out at dusk Sunday after a day of unrest and disorder that brought a barrage of tear gas fired by police into the camp in an early morning encounter.

Like Depression Crisis

The deadline pushed the Poor People's Campaign toward a crisis similar to the Depression era incident when federal troops were used to disperse the encampment set up by the Bonus Army marchers.

"This is a "jail-without-bail program we are embarked on now," said the Rev. Ralph Davin Abernathy, leader of the campaign. "We must be prepared for the worst."

OLYMPIC STYLE. Fred Mader of Chester, Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. employe, shows the form which won for him a world's record in the plate jump at the Pottery Olympics Saturday, part of the Tri-State Pottery Festival.

Teams from the Homer Laughlin China Co. and Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. today shared top honors as winners of the 1968 World Pottery Olympics.

The squad from the Laughlin plants at Newell and the team from the Chester firm earned three silver trophies each during the competition at the First National Bank drive-in lot.

The Hall China Co. of East Liverpool received one award in the seven-event Olympics.

T. S. & T. won the turkey platter relay, plate toss and platter jump, while Laughlin took the cup coordinated dash, cup toss and ware boy race. Hall won the figure-eight reverse relay.

The T.S. & T. team, which set the world record of 4 minutes, 19 seconds in the platter relay, included Don Geon and Jerry McCune of East Liverpool and David Moore and James Whitehill of Chester.

IN THE 30-foot plate toss at 30 - inch rings, the T. S. & T. squad scored 7 of 20 throws, Homer Laughlin 5 of 20 and Harker and Hall 4 each of 20.

The winners included Norman Young and Bruce Wells of East Liverpool, Arthur Harmon of Chester and Willis Sturgeon of Rogers.

Sturgeon, 36, a kilnplacer, used an overhand method to score three times in the noisy toss contest.

Hall, wearing green markers, posted a 2 minute, 32 second world record in taking the cup relay race. On the team were David Kidder, Bill Blankenship and Jeff Kidder of East Liverpool and Delfe Sias of Calcutta.

—:—

THE 50-FOOT cup toss at large metal drums netted few points for the four competitors. Laughlin's managed to sink two cups to win the event which was interrupted for seven minutes by a drenching rain which slickened the blacktop surface and chased the crowd for some time. The other teams sank one cup each.

The victorious cup toss team consisted of Baxter Talbert of Dixonville, George Keller and Jeff Hall of East Liverpool and Walter Goodman of Hookstown.

A real test of balance in the cup-coordinated dash in which the contestants carried cups and saucers and a set on their heads found Homer Laughlin's representatives — Ron Chisler of Newell and Talbert—winners. James Kessel and Keller stacked the ware for the winners.

Laughlin's squad carried 20 pieces of ware over the line in the ware boy race. The team included Kessel, Chisler, Talbert and Keller. T. S. & T. carried 12 over the line, Hall 16 and Harker 8.

THE PLATE jump, which began with 15 plates stacked on a 28-inch base, narrowed quickly to Joe Newlun and Fred Mader of T. S. & T. and light-footed Dave Kidder of Hall.

At Least Five Are Being Held Hostage Inside High Walls

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A riot and numerous fires struck the Ohio Penitentiary this morning. Inmates were reported holding five prison workers hostage.

Five prison guards were injured, state officials said.

Some 200 Ohio National Guardsmen were told to report to the armory. One - hundred state highway patrolmen armed with shotguns and rifles were sent to the walled prison housing 2,750 inmates.

Two hours after the first report, a state official said: "There is a degree of control within the prison by various law enforcement units."

"There was never any danger of a mass break-out," the official said.

The only hostage identified immediately was George Jones, prison industries chief.

A foreman, Harold Holt said Jones had been forced at knifepoint to accompany inmates from the prison yard to a hiding point deeper in the prison.

There were unconfirmed reports several prison hospital employes and patients, including a physician, Dr. Richard Brooks, were trapped on the fourth floor of the prison hospital.

Hospital Burns

The hospital is on fire and "we sent a squad of men into bring out anyone in the hospital," said Maury Koblentz, state corrections chief.

Koblentz said there had been no communications with the rioters. He said he had no knowledge of any demands by the convicts.

Simon said two prison guards were taken to a hospital, but early reports indicated they might have suffered heart attacks.

Wages The Big Issue

Steel Negotiations Enter Final Phase At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers, who want a big pay hike, and the steel industry, which says it can't afford one, begin the last phase of their contract talks today.

The union, which represents 450,000 men, has so far refused to put a price tag on its demands, clothing them instead in words like "substantial" and "whopping."

Industry sources claim they can not afford to hand out raises like the six per cent increases the union won in the copper, cans and aluminum industries.

They say that cheaper foreign steel already has grabbed off 13 per cent of the domestic market and price increases by American producers to offset a wage hike would open the door for imports even wider.

Steelworkers now earn an average of $3.67 an hour. The industry contends that fringe benefits raise their cost to 4.88 an hour.

Negotiations actually have been going on at local and company levels since April. But today is the day the negotiating teams that have been scattered around the country move to Pittsburgh to hammer out the wage agreement and other issues that couldn't be settled on a local level. The three-year contract expires Aug. 1.

Top industry men held a background meeting for newsmen last week and claimed that steel simply can't afford the raises other industries have been giving out.

They said profits dipped by about 30 per cent last year and productoin is expected to nosedive this summer even without a strike as consumers use up big stockpiles bought as strike protection.

Industry sources, who normally paint a bleak picture at contract time, say they wouldn't be surprised if the unoin asks for a nine per cent pay raise.

Rockefeller Group To Boost Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans supporting Nelson Rockefeller plan to step up their campaign this week to get the Republican presidential nomination for the New York governor.

William E. Miller, the Republican vice presidential candidate in 1964, will be here Wednesday for the formal opening of the Ohio Rockefeller organization's headquarters.

Robert S. Oelman, head of the Ohio Rockefeller campaign and board chairman of the National Cash Register Co., Dayton, also announced Saturday plans to open Rockefeller headquarters in each of the state's 88 counties.

Oelman announced a list of more than 50 persons who will make up the Ohio Rockefeller for President Committee.

Canada Hit By 3 Strikes On Weekend

TORONTO (AP) — The garbage piled up in Toronto today, Ontario's supply of beer was threatened, and Canada's most important waterway was closed, all because of strikes.

The brewery strike-lockout in Ontario started a rush on liquor stores and hotels as supplies dwindled. About 2,700 brewery workers and warehousemen struck Friday for better wages and pension plans.

Government liquor stores reported most imported beer stocks were sold out. Hotels also reported a booming business. Hundreds flocked to a nonunion brewery 110 miles northwest of Toronto to stock up.

Toronto residents felt the first impact of their garbage strike today as the 7,000 tons of garbage usually collected daily began to pile up around the city.

Streets Commissioner Harold Atyeo announced residents may dump carefully packaged refuse at 29 sites—24 of them parks. The 3,700 strikers want a 20-per cent wage increase over two years. The city has offered 15 per cent.

In addition to the garbage men, the strikers include employes at the water and sewage plant and street maintenance men. Eight soccer games were postponed during the weekend because park employes did not mark the fields.

The St. Lawrence Seaway remained bottled up as leaders of the 1,200 strikers and the seaway authority apparently waited until Tuesday's national election is over.

Bombers Hit Cong Center Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers today smashed a Viet Cong training center 13 miles from Saigon.

The three-year contract expires Aug. 1.

Top industry men held a background meeting for newsmen last week and claimed that steel simply can't afford the raises other industries have been giving out.

They said profits dipped by about 30 per cent last year and productoin is expected to nosedive this summer even without a strike as consumers use up big stockpiles bought as strike protection.

Industry sources, who normally paint a bleak picture at contract time, say they wouldn't be surprised if the unoin asks for a nine per cent pay raise.

Rockefeller Group To Boost Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans supporting Nelson Rockefeller plan to step up their campaign this week to get the Republican presidential nomination for the New York governor.

William E. Miller, the Republican vice presidential candidate in 1964, will be here Wednesday for the formal opening of the Ohio Rockefeller organization's headquarters.

Robert S. Oelman, head of the Ohio Rockefeller campaign and board chairman of the National Cash Register Co., Dayton, also announced Saturday plans to open Rockefeller headquarters in each of the state's 88 counties.

Oelman announced a list of more than 50 persons who will make up the Ohio Rockefeller for President Committee.

Canada Hit By 3 Strikes On Weekend

TORONTO (AP) — The garbage piled up in Toronto today, Ontario's supply of beer was threatened, and Canada's most important waterway was closed, all because of strikes.

The brewery strike-lockout in Ontario started a rush on liquor stores and hotels as supplies dwindled. About 2,700 brewery workers and warehousemen struck Friday for better wages and pension plans.

Government liquor stores reported most imported beer stocks were sold out. Hotels also reported a booming business. Hundreds flocked to a nonunion brewery 110 miles northwest of Toronto to stock up.

Toronto residents felt the first impact of their garbage strike today as the 7,000 tons of garbage usually collected daily began to pile up around the city.

Streets Commissioner Harold Atyeo announced residents may dump carefully packaged refuse at 29 sites—24 of them parks. The 3,700 strikers want a 20-per cent wage increase over two years. The city has offered 15 per cent.

In addition to the garbage men, the strikers include employes at the water and sewage plant and street maintenance men. Eight soccer games were postponed during the weekend because park employes did not mark the fields.

The St. Lawrence Seaway remained bottled up as leaders of the 1,200 strikers and the seaway authority apparently waited until Tuesday's national election is over.

Bombers Hit Cong Center Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers today smashed a Viet Cong training center 13 miles from Saigon.

The B52s, have bombed closer to the capital only once. Last Feb. 13, at the height of the Viet Cong's Tet offensive on Saigon, they struck a suspected enemy troop concentration 10.5 miles north of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said ground observers in the training camp area southeast of the cap-

'Running To Win'

Wallace Support Grows On Barnstorming Tour

By DON MCKEE
Associated Press Writer

George C. Wallace's barnstorming across the South to the cheers of zealous supporters indicates his increasingly significant role in the presidential election.

"We are not running to throw it into the House of Representatives," he told crowds on his Southern fund-raising tour last week. "We are running to win."

But at this stage, even those governors supporting or leaning toward Wallace are not making all-out predictions of victory. Gov. Albert Brewer of Alabama is supporting the third-party candidate and says: "I think he has an excellent chance of winning."

Brewer predicted Wallace would carry Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia "of a certainty." And he said Wallace has an excellent chance of taking Texas, Arkansas, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida and Virginia.

Even though Brewer is partisan, behind the scenes there were other governors who agreed Wallace might carry from 5 to 10 states or more.

Gov. John Connally of Texas told newsmen at the Southern Governors Conference recently that both major party candidates should "run scared of George Wallace."

Former Georgia Gov. Carl E. Sanders said Wallace would sweep the South unless the Democratic organizations get busy.

"If," said Sanders, "the state and national party keeps sitting around while he gains momentum, then it is going to be too late."

Both Connally and Sanders alluded to the law-and-order issue which Wallace has hammered in his speeches. This has a strong appeal among voters, Sanders said, and the Democratic candidates ought to talk about it.

Wallace has already won positions on the ballot in more than one-half the states. All indications are that he will be on the ballot in most states by November.

He tells listeners how he made the ballot in California by getting 107,263 voters to re-register as members of his American Independent party—when only 66,000 were needed. He also points to the turnout of thousands for his party's county conventions in Texas.

It might be in his plans to work hard at winning the plurality in the big states like California and Texas. He reminds interviewers that California will have at least four different presidential candidates on the ballot.

The former Alabama governor does not talk about segregation and he repeatedly says he is not a racist. But he speaks out against federal guidelines, including those on school integration, and he is against the open housing law.

Former Newsman Claimed At Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Lev Flournoy, 76, former newsman and co-founder of a public relations firm here, died Sunday.

A native of Pine Bluff, Ark., Flournoy studied at the Sorbon and for periods was employed by the old Cleveland News, the old Toledo News-Bee, the Columbus Citizen (now the Citizen-Journal), the Pittsburgh Press, Chicago Tribune and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

He sold his interest the past year, due to ill health, in the public relations firm of Flournoy and Gibbs, Inc.

Judges were Joe Wilson, Hanoverton; Tony Brandonisio, Salineville and Sal Trainer, Sebring. The announcer was Pete Marra.

Fred Rogers distributed wooden souvenir shingles made by a steam engine and machine which he built himself.

Police Conduct Narcotics Raids

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nine persons were arrested by Columbus police over the weekend in narcotics raids, mostly in the Ohio State University area.

The latest arrests were those Sunday of Terry Lynn Harms, 23, and Lloyd Raymond Buell, 24, both of Columbus. Harms was identified as an OSU graduate student.

Harms was charged with possession of marijuana, illegal sale of narcotics and keeping a house where narcotics are used. Buell was charged with sale of narcotics, keeping a house where narcotics are used and conspiracy to possess narcotics.

Seven arrests were made Friday night and early Saturday. One of those arrested Saturday on a suspicious person charge was Bradley P. Slemmer, 23, of Upper Sandusky.

Silver Exchange Will Close Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Silver certificates are still money but effective this afternoon they can no longer be exchanged for silver.

The Treasury Department redeems the certificates with silver at its New York and San Francisco assay offices until the 3 p.m. closing time today.

The department has served notice that anyone standing in line at that time cannot receive silver, although officials did not expect lines to form on the last day.

As of that time the government also no longer maintain the official silver price of $1.29—a price that had long since risen on the open market due to increased industrial demands for the metal.

Government maintenance of the 71.29 price had prompted many dealers to offer a premium for silver certificates so they could obtain Treasury silver at that price and sell it to industry at the higher market price.

The silver certificates, paper money put into circulation between 1929 and the early 1960s, will still be negotiable but the Treasury plans to continue withdrawing them as they work their way through the banking system.

The Treasury will continue to sell its silver to industry at the market price.

Gov. Shafer Drafts New Gun Law Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House Law and Order Commttee scheduled a meeting today to consider legislation designed to strengthen Pennsylvania's gun laws.

Gov. Shafer directed Atty. Gen. William C. Sennett to appear before the panel and outline an administration proposal made public over the weekend.

House Minority Leader Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia, also planned to attend the meeting to speak in behalf of a bill he introduced last May 6.

Fineman expressed concern last week that his bill was being ignored by the committee. He filed a discharge resolution calling for the measure to be released to the House floor.

Then, in a surprise move, the governor announced on Saturday that his administration had drafted a bill, patterned after the Illinois law, and would offer it this week.

In many ways, the Shafer proposal goes far beyond legislation proposed at the federal level. In essence, it would require every Pennsylvanian who owned a firearm or even ammunition to be licensed by the State Police.

In order to possess a firearm rifle or hand gun, a person would have to secure an identication card from the State Police at a cost of $5. The card, bearing the holders photograph, would be good five years and would be renewable.

"You would not be able to buy, possess, transfer or sell a gun or ammunition without this card," Shafer said in a statement, and he noted further:

No one under 18 years of age could acquire a card, and, therefore, could not own a firearm. In addition, the State Police could deny a card to an ex-convict, a drug addict or anyone who had been in a mental institution within the past five years.

An applicant for an ID card would have to submit two copies of his fingerprints to the State Police, who then would have 90 days to approve or deny the application. If denied, the applicant could file a court suit.

Fairview Groups Set Fair Planning Session

OHIOVILLE — A meeting of the fair committee will be held July 10 at 7:30 p. m. in the Fairview Grange Hall. The group has decided that the event will be named the "Fairview Fair," because it is cosponsored by the Grange and the Ohioville Fire Department.

The event will be held Aug. 27-31, with judging Aug. 28.

Stahl Pledges 'Civil Peace'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The City of Pittsburgh has pledged to preserve civil peace at any cost.

"In a few areas of the city, fear stalks the streets at night and even by day. We cannot long endure such a situation," Deputy Mayor David Stahl said Saturday.

"Therefore the police will continue to protect every citizen of the community to the fullest extent of their resources."

Stahl said the city "will take the measures necessary to expand the services of the police bureau." But he didn't specify what that would consist of.

Stahl spoke out after a week which had seen a policeman's home and car wrecked, stores firebombed in a shopping center and downtown stores looted.

The latest incident was early Saturday when a gang of youths smashed in the windows of a downtown shoe store and jewelry store and ran off with everything they could get their hands on. A white policeman's car was smashed by a gang of Negroes last Sunday. And firemen estimated $50,000 damage was done by firebombs to stores in the Chateau Plaza Thursday.

Stahl said, "The city will continue to promote every possible program in the field of housing, employment, education and other human services." But he then added, quoting from President Johnson's rio commission, "Preserving civil peace is the first responsibility of government."

Youth Fined $200, Jailed In Drunk Driving Case

A 19-year-old Beaver County youth was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

David Raybuck of Beaver Falls also was fined $25 and costs on a charge of resisting an officer. He was arrested Sunday at 2:19 a. m. at St. Clair Ave. and Broadway by Patrolman Arthur Peters. Judge Chertoff told the defendant he does not have the power to suspend an out-of-state driver's license, but he took possession of Raybuck's permit and said it will be sent to the Pennsylvania bureau of motor vehicles with a request it be suspended.

MEANWHILE, the judge set a hearing Thursday morning for Robert James Graham of 636½ Avondale St., also charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and failure to stop after a traffic accident. Police said Graham was arrested Sunday at 7:55 p. m. on Walnut St. by Lt. Paul Blevins.

The continuance was granted after Graham asked time to obtain counsel. The court set two appearance bonds totaling $700 on the two counts.

The court set a hearing Wednesday for Arnold Smith of W. 2nd St., charged with failure to stop after a traffic accident May 8. The affidavit was signed by J. K. Hendershot of 142 W. 2nd St. Smith pleaded not guilty. His bond was set at $100.

A hearing also is set Wednesday for Thomas E. Davis of Pennsylvania Ave., cited Friday at 9:20 p. m. on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. Frank E. Kraft of 233 Center St., arrested at the same time and place for the same violation, was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty this morning. He told the judge he was not acquainted with the other driver.

MICHAEL Davis of Canton forfeited a $27.50 bond on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 30. He was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Friday at 5:15 p. m. Edward Moore of Dunn Rd., cited by the patrol Friday at 9:30 p. m. on a charge of driving a car without taillights, was fined $10 and costs.

Harry E. Pinkerton of 311 W. 9th St. pleaded guilty to charges of crashing traffic signals at 4th and Market Sts. and 3rd and Market Sts. He was fined $10 and costs on each count. Pinkerton was cited Sunday at 4:03 a. m. by Patrolman David Huffman.

Three men drew fines as a result of an alleged disturbance Saturday morning at 4:25 on the River Rd. They were identified as Lewis Snyder of Toronto RD 2, Uril Shannon of LaCroft and George Stoffel Jr. of Chester RD 1.

Snyder was fined $10 and costs on a fighting charge. Shannon was given a suspended $10 fine, also on a fighting charge. Stoffel was fined $5 and costs on a charge of using profane language. Stoffel told the court he was trying to break up a fight between Snyder and Shannon.

William McCune of 857 W. 8th St. was fined $50 and costs on an intoxication charge and $10 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct by using indecent language. He was cited Sunday at 1:43 a.m. on W. 8th St. by Huffman.

THE COURT set hearings next Monday for two more defendants who pleaded not guilty.

John Cunningham of 712 Sophia St. entered a denial on a charge of trespassing June 15 on the property of Harold Simms of May St. His $28 bond was continued.

James Hager of 1854 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. pleaded not guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of a window and a radio antenna on the car of Ralph Jackson last Wednesday. His $57.50 bond was continued.

Boy, 7, Found After Search

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—A seven-year-old boy who disappeared Sunday while visiting friends with his family was found early today unharmed.

More than 200 people searched the fairways and wooded area of the club Sunday night and early today before the boy was found.

Mrs. Varner said she had taken her 12 children for a visit and when she and the family returned home she discovered John was missing.

Highways Are Bargains

We motorists frequently find ourselves condemning our public officials for not building more highways faster and improving the older roads at a speedier pace.

But we fail to admit to ourselves what is the big thing that prevents these accomplishments.

Our highways are being built amost exclusively from road-use taxes. These are taxes we pay for fuel, oil, gasoline and accessories.

The huge sales tax we pay on our new cars does not go into road-building or maintenance.

BUT WE ALSO keep reminding ourselves that, in addition to paying for the roads, we also pay big prices for the vehicles we drive. Next to our houses, automobiles are the most expensive purchases we make.

The average automobile is driven 100,000 miles on its journey from the assembly line to the junkyard, requiring about 7,000 gallons of gasoline.

As Ohio motorists, we pay seven cents a gallon for state motor fuel taxes plus four cents a gallon for federal fuel tax.

According to a U.S. Bureau of Public Roads study, the 10-year cost of buying and operating an automobile is $11,024.

If this total cost were collected entirely at the gasoline pump — that is, the cost of the car, gasoline, tires, repairs, parking, taxes and everything else involved — gasoline would cost $1.57 a gallon.

Of that amount, state and federal taxes would account for 17 cents, and most of it would go for highway construction, maintenance and administration.

In terms of cents per gallon, the remaining $1.40 would include 40 cents for depreciation, 25 cents for repairs and maintenance of the car, another 25 cents for garaging, parking and tolls, 21 cents for gasoline, 20 cents for insurance and smaller amounts for tires, accessories and other costs.

But the $1.57 covers only the basic car with automatic transmission and radio. If we add power steering and power brakes, that's another two cents a gallon. For an additional two cents a gallon you can add deluxe wheel covers and vinyl top.

Bucket seats cost a little over a penny a gallon., and air conditioning about 8.4 cents. Whitewall tires are reasnable -- only a penny a gallon.

ANOTHER MONEY problem that Bureau of Public Roads officials say is overdue for examination is the fact that road-use taxes are structured so they do not reflect inflation in the economy.

Most road-user taxes, like gasoline, are taxed so much a gallon. Auto license fees are a set figure.

On the other hand, the income taxes, the sales taxes and real estate taxes all automatically follow price trends. But the fact that highway revenue is almost entirely derived from fixed units -- the gallon and the vehicle -- almost condemns highway revenues to lag behind highway costs.

In 1940, the weighted average of the states' gasoline tax rates was four cents per gallon. Today, it is 6½ cents. Offhand, that sounds like a pretty substantial increase, 62½ per cent. But the cost-of-living index is now 238 per cent of 1940. On the basis of its 1940 cost-of-living purchasing power, the 6½ cents is now worth 2.72 cents.

Today it takes the tax from 18 gallons of gasoline to buy a bag of cement that could be bought with the tax from 14 gallons in 1940.

It takes all of Ohio's road-user taxes for 325 automobiles for a whole year to buy one medium-size bulldozer.

The cost of steel used in highway bridges and for reinforcing concrete has risen steeply the last 28 years. Labor rates for highway building have zoomed skyward. Yet, the taxes which are used to build and maintain these highways have risen relatively slowly.

TO RIDE ON major toll roads the public pays charges that run about 1½ cents a mile. At 15 miles to the gallon, this fee costs the auto owner an amount equal to 22½ cents a gallon of gasoline to use the toll road.

The auto owner pays it gladly, because he knows what he is paying, and what he is buying, whether it be convenience or time saving, and considers it worth the price.

Highways are one of the best bargains we are buying today.

Wait 'Till Next Year

Reaction to the three-day pottery festival throughout the city has generally been a mixture of mild surprise and moderate approval—surprise that East Liverpool has been able to muster such a coordinated achievement on the initial try, and approval in that it generated a new downtown excitement and a renewed interest in the ceramic industry.

Critics point to some rough edges which may be acceptable by first year standards, but not for any event which expects to remain on a continuing basis with the scope intended.

A great deal of appreciation must go not only to the festival committee and the potteries, unions and merchants, but to the entertainers, participating organizations, volunteer workers, city officials and employes and many others who contributed time and money and energy to make the festival a worthwhile venture for those who came to visit.

Many who attended the fete were wont to ask, "What will they do next year?"

The festival committee plans to review its successes and failures and enlarge its field of operations. It staggered the sports world, for example, to learn that the World Olympics was dominated by two West Virginia teams.

Moscow and London haven't been heard from yet, but invitations to the 1969 contests were put in the mail today.

And a lot of district residents were planning to invite their distant friends and relatives to join the fun next year.

Bugged

Dialogue on the Diamond: "What's this 'blu flu' bit?" "Well, it's a sort of a loss of memory and hearing brought on by a wage rage which results in a cop out and fire fly."

Communications? Take More

Keep open the lines of communication!

Wherever there has been conflict and estrangement in recent times, this advice has been offered and stressed. "At least keep talking" has been the message.

There is much of value in these admonitions. But they don't always achieve results. Sometimes they are a waste of time.

It would seem the Paris peace talks may be one of those times.

Week after week after week goes by and apparently the two sides are no closer to any type of agreement than they were at the outset. Their positions are clear. There should be no misunderstanding.

The North Vietnamese play a broken record and the United States tries futilely to reach some accord without promising to halt the bombing completely.

Communication is fine but when unmovable objection meets irresistible determination, it seems the definite weakening of one or the other will be necessary to achieve an agreement and it appears the weakening in this case must come on the field of battle.

'Lie Down, You're Supposed To Be Sick!'

'Mr. Big' Explains

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Everybody talks about "The System" these days. The moderate people want to change "The System," the militants want to destroy it and set up a system of their own.

This obviously has the people who run "The System" unnerved. I went over to "The System's" headquarters the other day to find out what they were doing to stave off the attack.

After being searched and grilled for an hour to make sure I wasn't there to wreck "The System," I was ushered into the office of Mr. Big, who turned out, much to my surprise, to be a very pleasant, outgoing person with a friendly manner and a good golf tan.

"I SUPPOSE you expected to find a sinister, shifty-eyed, bitter man running 'The System,' he said.

"Well, frankly, I did," I admitted. "You hear so much about 'The System' that you don't know what to expect."

"It's understandable," he said. "We've been getting a very bad press lately."

"How do you explain it?" I asked him.

"People are very unhappy and frustrated these days and they don't know who to blame, so they take it out on 'The System.'"

"Has it hurt business?"

"No, it's actually helped us. The more talk there is about changing or tearing down 'The System,' the more people come to our defense. Most Americans don't like change."

"BUT 'THE SYSTEM' isn't working for everybody," I said.

"Of course not," Mr. Big said. "No system does. But if you change 'The System' somebody is bound to be offended. Our job is to keep our present members happy, rather than to take in new ones."

"How do you differ from 'The Establishment'?"

"The Establishment' works for us. It is a wholly-owned subsidiary of 'The System.' You see, in order for 'The System' to work you need a power structure. The power structure is built by 'The Establishment' which keeps 'The System' going."

"Why doesn't 'The System' operate with 'The Establishment'?" I asked.

"Because when things start getting really hot, as they are right now, we can lay the blame on "The Establishment." It's easier to change "The Establishment," than to change 'The System.' For example, you had the situation up at Columbia University where the students started to attack 'The System.' Our agents infiltrated the group and started to attack 'The Establishment' at Columbia, instead. This took the heat off us and 'The System' was saved."

"It must have been tough on the members of 'The Establishment,'" I said.

"We can't let personal feelings enter into this. When one joins 'The Establishment' in this country he has to expect to be sacrificed."

"YOU WEREN'T BEHIND President Johnson not running again for office?" I asked.

"'The System' never discusses personalities," Mr. Big said. "But let's say we had a long talk with him before he made his decision."

"But the President was only following the orders of 'The System'" I said.

Mr. Big said coldly, "When things go wrong, 'The System' has to find someone to take the rap."

"You have a great responsibility, Mr. Big," I said admiringly. "I guess during times like this you can never relax."

Mr. Big gave me an ingratiating smile. "You can say that again. My golf game has gone completely to pot."

Letter To The Editor

Soldier's Letter Answered

(The Letters to the Editor column is for expressions of opinion by readers on current issues. All letters must be signed and include address of the sender, but names will be withheld upon request. Because of space limitations, letters should be brief or of moderate length.)

I am answering a letter which appeared in the Letters to the Editor column June 18 from a soldier in Vietnam.

Dear Sgt. Handley,

I write to you in the name of millions of people in the most wonderful country in the world who want to reassure you that we do not feel it is right to use the bullet instead of the ballot.

We are very sad and shocked that Sen. Kennedy was assassinated, and also that your life, along with over a half million other very important American men's lives, must be endangered for the sake of peace.

You talk of soul-searching, and I know that much of this was done after R.F.K.'s slaying, but I also know that the real American has been soul-searching for a long time before this.

Please do not group us all together when you say, "We seem to think we have it so bad with riots, taxes, etc." Always, in a society as complex as America's, we will find minority groups who disagree with our way of life and do it loudly enough so as to make it seem as if they are a majority.

We true Americans are not sitting back and letting this thing happen, as it must seem to you, but are quietly writing our requests to our Congressmen, and will show our desires at the polls. And we are praying very zealously in our churches.

America has not changed so much, but we are fighting a more elusive enemy than we have ever fought before, and like the soldier in his first battle, we are not very confident. But as time goes on, we will become more proficient, and then just "watch the fur fly."

The people for whom you are now fighting and who you say "know how to live together," have been trying without much success to do so for years and years before America was ever thought of, so keep your faith in America and its people as we are keeping ours in you, and, with God's help, plus a giant share of American fortitude and perseverance, we will be victorious.

Rest assured that our thoughts and prayers are always with you — our long away from home brother. We will keep America as wonderful as you left it, as God is our judge.

Congress has a real problem on its hands in the closing months of the session, as disorder in the country has become extraordinary. The people are demanding that something be done.

The most affluent and greatest nation in the world is in the midst of a moral crisis. Crime continues to rise month after month. Violence is rampant, robberies are frequent, and people are afraid to go out on the streets.

Police often are not allowed to make arrests, and the courts tend to release criminals on technicalities.

Members of Congress from all over the country are becoming more and more concerned with the expressions of discontent and dissatisfaction which they are receiving from their constituents.

THIS WAS REFLECTED in the passage of the anticrime bill. It provides some financial assistance to state and local law-enforcement agencies, and contains a watered-down provision for gun control. But much more is needed.

At the Senate prayer breakfast a few days ago, Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas — who is retiring at the end of the current session after 18 years in Congress — summarized the basic issue in these words:

"Modern Americans have accepted and are tolerating conditions never before permitted by any generation of our ancestors. . .

"Never has wild pleasure or physical abandonment been considered fitting human behavior as it is today.

"Never have public officials been so brazen and open in seeking the vote of the people through promises of things that are morally and spiritually wrong.

"Never have ministers of the gospel turned their pulpits and their pastoral duties toward direction of the social order to the near exclusion of the salvation of order as abounds in our time."

Only this week the American people read of a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States which relied on technicalities of law in disregard of principles of morality. The court declared invalid regulations by the state of Alabama denying aid to dependent children when mothers "cohabit" with men other than their husbands.

The state argued that the purpose of its regulations was to discourage illicit sexual relationships and illegitimacy. The ruling of the nation's highest court seems, however, to condone adultery and encourage more illegitimacy.

THERE HAS LONG BEEN criticism that some government "welfare" programs were having such a result. A subcommittee of the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, for instance, is currently holding hearings on various proposals for assistance to the poor.

At Tuesday's session, Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich., sharply criticized a plan of the Office of Economic Opportunity as one that would "subsidize bastardy."

This week people read about or saw on their television screens the culmination of the "poor people's march" on Washington. These "demonstrators," in fact, ignored the governing bodies in states, counties, cities and towns across the nation from which they could seek redress and relief.

At the same time, however, people wonder why the vast "antipoverty" programs are not providing aid to the poor and others who really need it. Questions have been raised for years as to the efficiency of governmental agencies in helping the deserving needy.

The charge is often heard that there is waste running into hundreds of millions of dollars in the handling of "welfare" programs. These criticisms are becoming far more pressing now as publicity is given to the fact that thousands may be suffering from hunger or malnutrition.

AMERICANS HAVE BEEN contributing billions of dollars annually to private institutions for charitable purposes, and they are not averse to having their tax money spent for help to the needy, particularly where children are concerned.

Their dissatisfaction today is based on a feeling that funds intended for assistance to those deserving it are being diverted to other ends.

The American people are disturbed about what is happening throughout the country, and about the failure of Congress and the executive departments to deal effectively with these problems. This will be a big issue in the forthcoming campaign.

Highways Are Bargains

We motorists frequently find ourselves condemning our public officials for not building more highways faster and improving the older roads at a speedier pace.

But we fail to admit to ourselves what is the big thing that prevents these accomplishments.

Our highways are being built amost exclusively from road-use taxes. These are taxes we pay for fuel, oil, gasoline and accessories.

The huge sales tax we pay on our new cars does not go into road-building or maintenance.

BUT WE ALSO keep reminding ourselves that, in addition to paying for the roads, we also pay big prices for the vehicles we drive. Next to our houses, automobiles are the most expensive purchases we make.

The average automobile is driven 100,000 miles on its journey from the assembly line to the junkyard, requiring about 7,000 gallons of gasoline.

As Ohio motorists, we pay seven cents a gallon for state motor fuel taxes plus four cents a gallon for federal fuel tax.

According to a U.S. Bureau of Public Roads study, the 10-year cost of buying and operating an automobile is $11,024.

If this total cost were collected entirely at the gasoline pump — that is, the cost of the car, gasoline, tires, repairs, parking, taxes and everything else involved — gasoline would cost $1.57 a gallon.

Of that amount, state and federal taxes would account for 17 cents, and most of it would go for highway construction, maintenance and administration.

In terms of cents per gallon, the remaining $1.40 would include 40 cents for depreciation, 25 cents for repairs and maintenance of the car, another 25 cents for garaging, parking and tolls, 21 cents for gasoline, 20 cents for insurance and smaller amounts for tires, accessories and other costs.

But the $1.57 covers only the basic car with automatic transmission and radio. If we add power steering and power brakes, that's another two cents a gallon. For an additional two cents a gallon you can add deluxe wheel covers and vinyl top.

Bucket seats cost a little over a penny a gallon, and air conditioning about 8.4 cents. Whitewall tires are reasnable -- only a penny a gallon.

ANOTHER MONEY problem that Bureau of Public Roads officials say is overdue for examination is the fact that road-use taxes are structured so they do not reflect inflation in the economy.

Most road-user taxes, like gasoline, are taxed so much a gallon. Auto license fees are a set figure.

On the other hand, the income taxes, the sales taxes and real estate taxes all automatically follow price trends. But the fact that highway revenue is almost entirely derived from fixed units -- the gallon and the vehicle -- almost condemns highway revenues to lag behind highway costs.

In 1940, the weighted average of the states' gasoline tax rates was four cents per gallon. Today, it is 6½ cents. Offhand, that sounds like a pretty substantial increase, 62½ per cent. But the cost-of-living index is now 238 per cent of 1940. On the basis of its 1940 cost-of-living purchasing power, the 6½ cents is now worth 2.72 cents.

Today it takes the tax from 18 gallons of gasoline to buy a bag of cement that could be bought with the tax from 14 gallons in 1940.

It takes all of Ohio's road-user taxes for 325 automobiles for a whole year to buy one medium-size bulldozer.

The cost of steel used in highway bridges and for reinforcing concrete has risen steeply the last 28 years. Labor rates for highway building have zoomed skyward. Yet, the taxes which are used to build and maintain these highways have risen irelatively slowly.

TO RIDE ON major toll roads the public pays charges that run about 1½ cents a mile. At 15 miles to the gallon, this fee costs the auto owner an amount equal to 22½ cents a gallon of gasoline to use the toll road.

The auto owner pays it gladly, because he knows what he is paying, and what he is buying, whether it be convenience or time saving, and considers it worth the price.

Highways are one of the best bargains we are buying today.

Wait 'Till Next Year

Reaction to the three-day pottery festival throughout the city has generally been a mixture of mild surprise and moderate approval—surprise that East Liverpool has been able to muster such a coordinated achievement on the initial try, and approval in that it generated a new downtown excitement and a renewed interest in the ceramic industry.

Critics point to some rough edges which may be acceptable by first year standards, but not for any event which expects to remain on a continuing basis with the scope intended.

A great deal of appreciation must go not only to the festival committee and the potteries, unions and merchants, but to the entertainers, participating organizations, volunteer workers, city officials and employes and many others who contributed time and money and energy to make the festival a worthwhile venture for those who came to visit.

Many who attended the fete were wont to ask, "What will they do next year?"

The festival committee plans to review its successes and failures and enlarge its field of operations. It staggered the sports world, for example, to learn that the World Olympics was dominated by two West Virginia teams.

Moscow and London haven't been heard from yet, but invitations to the 1969 contests were put in the mail today.

And a lot of district residents were planning to invite their distant friends and relatives to join the fun next year.

Communications? Take More

Keep open the lines of communication!

Wherever there has been conflict and estrangement in recent times, this advice has been offered and stressed. "At least keep talking" has been the message.

There is much of value in these admonitions. But they don't always achieve results. Sometimes they are a waste of time.

It would seem the Paris peace talks may be one of those times.

Week after week after week goes by and apparently the two sides are no closer to any type of agreement than they were at the outset. Their positions are clear. There should be no misunderstanding.

The North Vietnamese play a broken record and the United States tries futilely to reach some accord without promising to halt the bombing completely.

Communication is fine but when unmovable objection meets irresistible determination, it seems the definite weakening of one or the other will be necessary to achieve an agreement and it appears the weakening in this case must come on the field of battle.

'Lie Down, You're Supposed To Be Sick!'

'Mr. Big' Explains

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Everybody talks about "The System" these days. The moderate people want to change "The System," the militants want to destroy it and set up a system of their own.

This obviously has the people who run "The System" unnerved. I went over to "The System's" headquarters the other day to find out what they were doing to stave off the attack.

After being searched and grilled for an hour to make sure I wasn't there to wreck "The System." I was ushered into the office of Mr. Big, who turned out, much to my surprise, to be a very pleasant, outgoing person with a friendly manner and a good golf tan.

"I SUPPOSE you expected to find a sinister, shifty-eyed, bitter man running 'The System,' he said.

"Well, frankly, I did," I admitted. "You hear so much about 'The System' that you don't know what to expect."

"It's understandable," he said. "We've been getting a very bad press lately."

"How do you explain it?" I asked him.

"People are very unhappy and frustrated these days and they don't know who to blame, so they take it out on 'The System.'"

"Has it hurt business?"

"No, it's actually helped us. The more talk there is about changing or tearing down 'The System,' the more people come to our defense. Most Americans don't like change."

"BUT 'THE SYSTEM' isn't working for everybody," I said.

"Of course not," Mr. Big said. "No system does. But if you change 'The System' somebody is bound to be offended. Our job is to keep our present members happy, rather than to take in new ones."

"How do you differ from 'The Establishment'?"

"The Establishment' works for us. It is a wholly-owned subsidiary of 'The System.' You see, in order for 'The System' to work you need a power structure. The power structure is built by 'The Establishment' which keeps 'The System' going."

"Why doesn't 'The System' operate with 'The Establishment'?" I asked.

"Because when things start getting really hot, as they are right now, we can lay the blame on "The Establishment." It's easier to change "The Establishment," than to change 'The System.' For example, you had the situation up at Columbia University where the students started to attack 'The System.' Our agents infiltrated the group and started to attack 'The Establishment' at Columbia, instead. This took the heat off us and 'The System' was saved."

"It must have been tough on the members of 'The Establishment.'" I said.

"We can't let personal feelings enter into this. When one joins 'The Establishment' in this country he has to expect to be sacrificed."

"YOU WEREN'T BEHIND President Johnson not running again for office?" I asked.

"'The System' never discusses personalities," Mr. Big said. "But let's say we had a long talk with him before he made his decision."

"But the President was only following the orders of 'The System'" I said.

Mr. Big said coldly, "When things go wrong, 'The System' has to find someone to take the rap."

"You have a great responsibility, Mr. Big," I said admiringly. "I guess during times like this you can never relax."

Mr. Big gave me an ingratiating smile. "You can say that again. My golf game has gone completely to pot."

Soldier's Letter Answered

(The Letters to the Editor column is for expressions of opinion by readers on current issues. All letters must be signed and include address of the sender, but names will be withheld upon request. Because of space limitations, letters should be brief or of moderate length.)

I am answering a letter which appeared in the Letters to the Editor column June 18 from a soldier in Vietnam.

Dear Sgt. Handley,

I write to you in the name of millions of people in the most wonderful country in the world who want to reassure you that we do not feel it is right to use the bullet instead of the ballot.

We are very sad and shocked that Sen. Kennedy was assassinated, and also that your life, along with over a half million other very important American men's lives, must be endangered for the sake of peace.

You talk of soul-searching, and I know that much of this was done after R.F.K.'s slaying, but I also know that the real American has been soul-searching for a long time before this.

Please do not group us all together when you say, "We seem to think we have it so bad with riots, taxes, etc." Always, in a society as complex as America's, we will find minority groups who disagree with our way of life and do it loudly enough so as to make it seem as if they are a majority.

We true Americans are not sitting back and letting this thing happen, as it must seem to you, but are quietly writing our requests to our Congressmen, and will show our desires at the polls. And we are praying very zealously in our churches.

America has not changed so much, but we are fighting a more elusive enemy than we have ever fought before, and like the soldier in his first battle, we are not very confident. But as time goes on, we will become more proficient, and then just "watch the fur fly."

The people for whom you are now fighting and who you say "know how to live together," have been trying without much success to do so for years and years before America was ever thought of, so keep your faith in America and its people as we are keeping ours in you, and, with God's help, plus a giant share of American fortitude and perseverance, we will be victorious.

Rest assured that our thoughts and prayers are always with you -- our long away from home brother. We will keep America as wonderful as you left it, as God is our judge.

Jackson Put On Probation

Robert C. Jackson, 21, of 824 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, was placed on probation for five years this morning in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon for obtaining money under false pretenses.

As a condition of probation, Judge Raymond S. Buzzard directed that Jackson make immediate application through Probate Court for admission to Apple Creek State Hospital for a two-year period.

Jackson, who is blind, was indicted on two counts by the January grand jury. He pleaded guilty to attempting to obtain $100 from Pearl Wheatley and $200 from Harry Cahill by promising the return of objects stolen from them.

day with Vodrey, the fire chief and Solicitor J. Michael Kapp. At that time, the work stoppage had not spread to the police department.

The Fraternal Order of Police, learning of the fire department's action, called a special meeting at 4 p. m. yesterday. When the session ended, officers said they had "no comment" on the outcome.

However, four policemen due to report at midnight for the next shfit change reported off because of illness. Capt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice, who usually works a daylight shift, was pressed into service to man the desk from midnight to 8 a. m. Patrolman Robert Duffy, who usually mans the desk between midnight and 8, served as the cruiser operator.

Chief Radeschi appeared at 8 this morning to take over the desk operation.

THE QUESTION of the "blue flu" evidently will be discussed at a special meeting which Council had scheduled previously for tonight at 7.

The solicitor said the meeting was called to consider legislation appointing a three-member "board of equalization" in connection with contemplated sanitary sewer projects. Kapp was slated to go to Columbus Thursday to argue a city case before the Board of Tax Appeals.

Because of the crisis in the police and fire departments, he canceled the trip. Asst. Solciitor Jackman S. Vodrey will argue the city's case. The city seeks to require the County Budget Commission to authorize immediate appropriation of new revenue expected from a boost in the city income tax.

The city contends it has a right to appropriate the money immediately. The budget commission takes the position that the funds cannot be allocated until they're actually collected.

Plane Lands Safely After Malfunction

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Boeing 727 jet airliner landed safely to the cheers of onlookers Sunday after jettisoning a wheel door that had jammed the landing gear.

Pacific Southwest Airlines pilot Ed Ondre, 43, of San Diego, who brought the stricken craft in, said, "We all thanked God we made it okay. All we did was follow normal emergency procedures."

With passengers gripping their seats, Ondre executed a series of steep dives over the Pacific Ocean, to whip open the malfunctioning wheel door. Wind pressure ripped the door from the wing and the wheels were lowered.

The plane, with 73 passengers and a crew of six, had left Los Angeles International Airport Sunday en route to San Jose, Calif.

The plane was rerouted to San Diego, the airline's base of operations, to execute the emergency maneuvers in less congested air space.

Two women passengers were hospitalized with slight injuries they received during the emergency acrobatics.

Statesmen Discuss Cut In Weapons

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Statesmen of the North Atlantic Alliance met today in quest of an East-West pact cutting back arms and armies in Middle Europe but with slender hopes of early success.

Initial signals from Moscow suggested to top authorities here that the Russians, concerned with getting their Warsaw Pact allies back into line, at this time want no part in a program of military reductions.

Foreign ministers of NATO mean nevertheless to push ahead because their arms-cutting initiative has a parallel purpose: It is to insure that member-governments of their 15-nation partnership do not one-sidedly begin withdrawing their forces, or reducing their firepower, from mainland Europe.

This purpose is likely to be embodied in a resolution, or some other form of endorsement, by the foreign ministers. It will have the effect of helping governments like the United States, Belgium and Canada resist domestic pressures for a withdrawal of troops.

The ministers met in the theater of the University of Iceland against a background of sporadic Communist-led demonstrations protesting the presence of American military bases in this windswept mid-Atlantic territory.

Robert C. Jackson, 21, of 824 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, was placed on probation for five years this morning in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon for obtaining money under false pretenses.

As a condition of probation, Judge Raymond S. Buzzard directed that Jackson make immediate application through Probate Court for admission to Apple Creek State Hospital for a two-year period.

Jackson, who is blind, was indicted on two counts by the January grand jury. He pleaded guilty to attempting to obtain $100 from Pearl Wheatley and $200 from Harry Cahill by promising the return of objects stolen from them.

day with Vodrey, the fire chief and Solicitor J. Michael Kapp. At that time, the work stoppage had not spread to the police department.

The Fraternal Order of Police, learning of the fire department's action, called a special meeting at 4 p. m. yesterday. When the session ended, officers said they had "no comment" on the outcome.

However, four policemen due to report at midnight for the next shfit change reported off because of illness. Capt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice, who usually works a daylight shift, was pressed into service to man the desk from midnight to 8 a. m. Patrolman Robert Duffy, who usually mans the desk between midnight and 8, served as the cruiser operator.

Chief Radeschi appeared at 8 this morning to take over the desk operation.

THE QUESTION of the "blue flu" evidently will be discussed at a special meeting which Council had scheduled previously for tonight at 7.

The solicitor said the meeting was called to consider legislation appointing a three-member "board of equalization" in connection with contemplated sanitary sewer projects. Kapp was slated to go to Columbus Thursday to argue a city case before the Board of Tax Appeals.

Because of the crisis in the police and fire departments, he canceled the trip. Asst. Solcitor Jackman S. Vodrey will argue the city's case. The city seeks to require the County Budget Commission to authorize immediate appropriation of new revenue expected from a boost in the city income tax.

The city contends it has a right to appropriate the money immediately. The budget commission takes the position that the funds cannot be allocated until they're actually collected.

Plane Lands Safely After Malfunction

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Boeing 727 jet airliner landed safely to the cheers of onlookers Sunday after jettisoning a wheel door that had jammed the landing gear.

Pacific Southwest Airlines pilot Ed Ondre, 43, of San Diego, who brought the stricken craft in, said, "We all thanked God we made it okay. All we did was follow normal emergency procedures."

With passengers gripping their seats, Ondre executed a series of steep dives over the Pacific Ocean, to whip open the malfunctioning wheel door. Wind pressure ripped the door from the wing and the wheels were lowered.

The plane, with 73 passengers and a crew of six, had left Los Angeles International Airport Sunday en route to San Jose, Calif.

The plane was rerouted to San Diego, the airline's base of operations, to execute the emergency maneuvers in less congested air space.

Two women passengers were hospitalized with slight injuries they received during the emergency acrobatics.

Statesmen Discuss Cut In Weapons

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Statesmen of the North Atlantic Alliance met today in quest of an East-West pact cutting back arms and armies in Middle Europe but with slender hopes of early success.

Initial signals from Moscow suggested to top authorities here that the Russians, concerned with getting their Warsaw Pact allies back into line, at this time want no part in a program of military reductions.

Foreign ministers of NATO mean nevertheless to push ahead because their arms-cutting initiative has a parallel purpose: It is to insure that member-governments of their 15-nation partnership do not one-sidedly begin withdrawing their forces, or reducing their firepower, from mainland Europe.

This purpose is likely to be embodied in a resolution, or some other form of endorsement, by the foreign ministers. It will have the effect of helping governments like the United States, Belgium and Canada resist domestic pressures for a withdrawal of troops.

The ministers met in the theater of the University of Iceland against a background of sporadic Communist-led demonstrations protesting the presence of American military bases in this windswept mid-Atlantic territory.

8 Cars Damaged In City Collisions

Eight cars were damaged in a series of five weekend traffic mishaps in East Liverpool, but no one was injured.

A 33-year-old motorist escaped unhurt in a spectacular crash Sunday on Dresden Ave. about 100 feet north of Moore St.

A southbound 1965 sedan operated by Robert Stollenwerk of Anderson Blvd. went out of control, struck the guardrails on his right and then crossed the street, hitting an embankment and coming to a halt in a ditch, police reported.

The crash damaged the front and right side of the auto. Stollenwerk told police he was blinded by the headlights of an oncoming auto.

TWO CARS were damaged heavily in a collision on a city-owned metered parking lot at 3rd and Market Sts. Saturday afternoon, officers said.

The mishap involved a parked 1965 four-door sedan owned by Mrs. Phyllis E. Mackall of Georgetown and a 1963 four-door sedan operated by Michael S. Haniotes, 54, of 211 Thompson Ave., who was maneuvering into a parking spot.

Haniotes told police the accelerator of his car stuck, causing it to hit the parked car. The mishap also damaged a concrete post and guardrail on the city lot, police said.

There was damage to the entire left side of the Mackall auto and the right front and rear doors and rear quarter panel of the Haniotes car. The mishap was timed at 12:12.

—:—

RICHARD H. Woomer, 19, of 1019½ Ohio Ave. told police his 1958 sedan was damaged in a hit-skip collision Saturday at 3:45 p. m. on Broadway at Diamond Alley.

Woomer reported he was stopped at a traffic signal when another car pulled from a parking spot, hit the left rear fender of his car and then proceeded. Woomer gave police the license number of the other car.

A collision Saturday at 7 p.m. damaged two autos on St. Clair Ave. at Manor Ln.

A northbound 1966 sedan driven by Catherine A. Haught, 27, of Chester RD 1 was hit from the rear by a 1965 sedan operated by Richard E. Downard, 19, of RD 3, officers said.

The Haught woman halted in making a left turn from St. Clair onto Manor Ln. and was hit from the rear by Downard's car, officers said. The collision damaged the rear bumper and trunk lid of the Haught vehicle and sprung the hood of Downard's car, officers said.

A COLLISION Sunday at 12:59 p.m. on Jefferson St. at Summit Ln. damaged a parked 1967 station wagon owned by Joseph E. Carr of 711 Burford St. and a 1964 four-door sedan operated by Kathryn A. Roberts, 66, of 943 Denver St., officers said.

The woman said she halted for a traffic light on 5th St. and then turned onto Jefferson St. She said an oncoming car seemed to be left of the center line and while she was watching it, she collided with the Carr auto.

The crash damaged the left front fender and door of the Carr auto and the right side of the Roberts auto.

Denise Darcel Arrested For 'Shoplifting'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bosomy French actress Denise Darcel, with money in her purse and a show date waiting, was charged with shoplifting $35 worth of underwear Sunday. She called it "a bum rap."

Miss Darcel, who rose to film stardom in the late 1940s, was arrested outside a downtown Miami department store by a store detective who said "she had three shopping bags full of merchandise."

Later, in jail, Miss Darcel said, "They can't get away with treating me like a common criminal."

"She had already purchased several articles and paid for them," Police Lt. Paul Oboz said. "And she was picking up other things she wanted. She claimed there was no sales lady at the time and she intended to pay for it later. She claims she went out to see if a bus was coming by. That's when she was arrested by the store detective."

Police said the goods —valued at $35.08— in Miss Darcel's shopping bags included hose, slips, a comb and mirror, hairpins, a few pair of panties, a nightgown and one bra—size 40.

Miss Darcel, petite and trim at 43, had her blonde hair tucked under a scarf when jailed. She wore a blouse with fruit prints, slacks and large sunglasses. She posted $500 bond and was released from jail about three hours after her arrest. She must appear in Municipal Court next Friday on petty larceny charges.

The Paris-born actress came to Hollywood in 1947 to film "To the Victor." She followed with a success in "Battleground" opposite Van Johnson and the late John Hodiak.

New Settings Used In College Classes

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The young scholar can sprawl out on a deep pile gold rug in one classroom at California Institute of Technology.

Psychology Prof. John Weir says the students are learning more in the experimental classroom, which is in use day and night by classes in biology, logic, English, mathematics and psychology.

Besides the gold carpet, the classroom has brightly painted chairs, colorful ceiling panels to reflect overhead lighting, and loosely woven white draperies. Students gather informally around the professor or sprawl on the floor if they prefer.

Weir says the setting makes students feel greater responsibility to become involved in classroom discussions.

Ohio Democrats Told To Promote States' Authority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democratic candidates were urged Saturday to work toward bringing more authority back to the states.

The appeal came from former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford, the featured speaker at a $20-per-plate fund raising luncheon attended by some 88 candidates for the Ohio House and 14 candidates for the Senate, along with party leaders.

"We must have a new approach to problem solving," Sanford said, listing water pollution, the ghettos and dirty air as just a few of the modern problems which face the nation.

Prior to his address, Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Democratic U.S. senatorial nominee John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati, who defeated Lausche in the May primary, spoke to the group.

Gilligan lashed out at Republican presidential aspirants and then said if everyone did his job "we're going to have an immense victory in November."

Lausche said "the only way you're going to be helped is to get out and help yourselves."

"A petition drive already begun will go door to door, person to person to demonstrate the overwhelming support for Sen. McCarthy and his will of the people for new leadership," Patir said.

Ohio Democrats Told To Promote States' Authority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democratic candidates were urged Saturday to work toward bringing more authority back to the states.

The appeal came from former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford, the featured speaker at a $20-per-plate fund raising luncheon attended by some 88 candidates for the Ohio House and 14 candidates for the Senate, along with party leaders.

"We must have a new approach to problem solving," Sanford said, listing water pollution, the ghettos and dirty air as just a few of the modern problems which face the nation.

Prior to his address, Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Democratic U.S. senatorial nominee John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati, who defeated Lausche in the May primary, spoke to the group.

Gilligan lashed out at Republican presidential aspirants and then said if everyone did his job "we're going to have an immense victory in November."

Lausche said "the only way you're going to be helped is to get out and help yourselves."

Kennedy Group Joins Ranks Of Sen. McCarthy

CLEVELAND (AP)— David L. Martin, who headed a citizens' group which backed the presidential bid of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has joined the steering committee of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's Ohio organization.

Martin, chairman of the Greater Cleveland Kennedy Action Corps, told McCarthy workers from throughout Ohio at a meeting here Sunday:

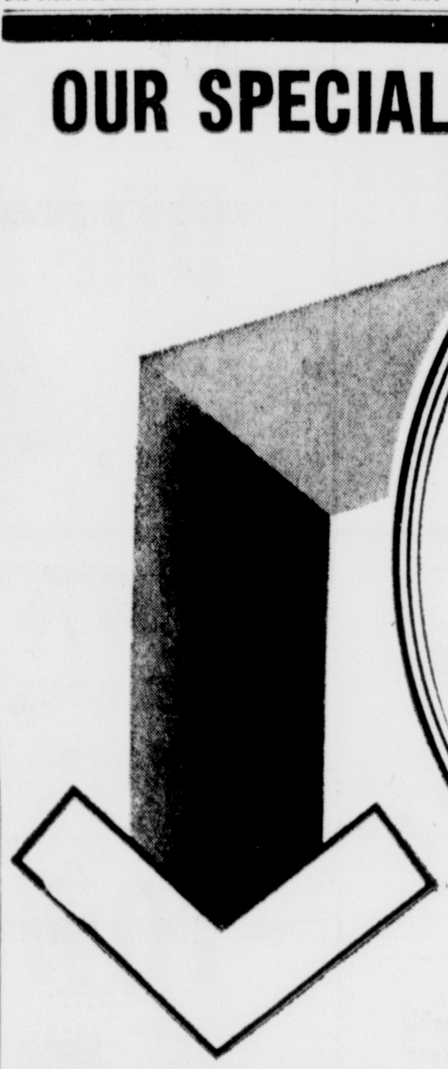

"We look forward to working with this organization to assure that the ideals of the late Sen. Kennedy are realized."

About 50 McCarthy for President representatives attended the meetng at their new state headquarters in Cleveland Heights.

Yoram Patir, member of the local steering committee, said people backing McCarthy in his drive to win the Democratic presidential nomination will intensify their efforts to take the campaign to the people.

"A petition drive already begun will go door to door, person to person to demonstrate the overwhelming support for Sen. McCarthy and his will of the people for new leadership," Patir said.

First Major Brush Fires Hit California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California's first major brush fires of the year raged on today after ravaging thousands of acres of tinder-dry park land.

A blaze in Angeles National Forest, a watershed area 40 miles north of Los Angeles, has burned more than 40,000 acres in the Liebre Mountain area since Friday.

It was reported 50 per cent contained, fire officials said.

A second blaze about 16 miles east, in the huge forest's Bouquet Canyon section, charred more than 3,500 acres before it was brought under control late Sunday.

A 3,000-acre fire in central California's Los Padres National Forest, 60 miles north of San Luis Obispo near the California coast, was about 90 per cent contained.

Winds exceeding 45-miles-an-hour whipped the Liebre Mountain fire eastward Sunday but subsided in today's predawn hours. More than 1,500 firemen, including men from the U.S. Forest Service, Los Angeles County Fire Deartment, California Division of Forestry and about 150 Arizona Indians, battled the inferno.

Five fire fighters were injured Friday, one critically.

No communities were threatened, authorities said. Trucks, bulldozers, helicopters and planes, which dropped tons of chemical retardants were mobilized to prevent the flames from spreading to more of the valuable watershed lands.

Riot

Koblentz were on the scene within minutes. Rhodes emerged later from the prison, but refused to comment as he drove away.

There were seven or eight fires in various buildings inside the prison. The power plant was believed knocked out.

Koblentz said the first fire apparently started in a print shop after 8 a.m. Thick, black smoke startling people just reporting rolled over the downtown area, to work.

The prison is only a few blocks from the heart of downtown Columbus.

Fires Spread

Other fires erupted in a mattress factory, a dining room, the power plant, and other buildings. There were reports of fires in some cells, but these were not confirmed.

The maximum security institution was swept by a holocaust April 21, 1930 in which 320 inmates died.

City Police Chief Robert Baus instructed bayoneted-armed police: "Stay in squads. Don't get within wrestling distance."

Police were told, "be aggressive" and use only "selective firing, if any."

Hundreds of inmates were milling in the prison yards, but Baus said the disturbance was being led by a cadre of 15 to 20 convicts.

Koblentz said shortly after Monday's disturbance began that there had been "simmering discontent" among prisoners in recent weeks.

Koblentz said participants in the riot represented "only a small part of the total prisoners. We had 2,750 in prison this morning."

The troublemakers moved around through the prison compound starting fires, Koblentz said.

Earlier Disturbance

Last Thursday, four prisoners commandeered the roof of the prison's power plant, but surrendered to a 10 - man guard force sent to regain control of the men.

Earlier last week, 51 of 108 inmates assigned to duty in the power plant coal yard refused to work for a day. They went on strike a week ago today and most returned the next day.

An unidentified prison employe told a newsman he called his family and told them, "I'm okay. We're having a riot here."

Senate Action Scheduled On ABM System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate opponents of the so-called "thin" Sentinel antimissile defense program are renewing their attack on the system, charging it is unproven and costs too much money.

A $1.8 billion military construction bill before the Senate for action today includes $227.3 million for the system, designed as a defense against potential Red Chinese nuclear attack capabilities in the 1970s.

The construction bill, already passed by the House, was expected to get Senate approval before the day is out—after a vote on an amendment to cut the Sentinel funds.

Congress has not completed action on the military procurement bill and Atomic Energy Commission legislation which also includes Sentinel funds.

Some senior members of the Armed Services Committee have argued that the Sentinel is a necessary deterrent against a growing chinese missile force.

These committee members have attacked arguments that the Sentinel is an untried weapon that might not work and that, in any case, offensive weapons can always be kept one step ahead of defensive ones.

"We may have one deployed that will not work," said Sen. John C. Stennis of Mississippi, second-ranking Armed Services Democrat, during debate Friday, "but they will not know it will not work."

ital reported that secondary explosions lasted for six minutes after the eight-engine bombers left the site. A secondary explosion means ammunition or fuel going up after the 500- and 750-pound bombs rave exploded.

In the last two weeks, the B52s have flown nearly 100 missions within a 75-mile radius of the capital, trying to cut infiltration corridors from the Cambodian border and prevent enemy troops from massing for a threatened attack on Saigon next month.

More Raids Hit Hancock's Clubs

The Hilltop Club on Route 30 in Hancock County was hit by West Virginia state police Saturday following earlier raids Friday on Chester and New Cumberland clubs.

Charles Pittenger of Chester RD 1, owner and proprietor of the club, was charged on a sight violation with keeping and exhibiting gaming devices.

Confiscated in the raid were three slots — one 25-cent machine and two nickel devices.

Troopers W. L. Watkins and F. S. Null of the Weirton Detachment entered the establishment about 3:30 p. m. Saturday. Pittenger was taken before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester and posted $160 bond for a hearing June 29.

Three slot machines were seized when the troopers raided the Club 66 in Chester and the Night Corral of New Cumberland Friday night.

Grabbed at Club 66 was one five-cent electric console "slot" and a partially-filled fifth of whisky, while two console "slots" of five-cent and 10-cent denomination were taken in the raid at the Night Corral.

Beulah Cook of the Club 66 was taken before Squire Allison and pleaded guilty to charges of keeping or exhibiting a gaming device and the sale of whisky without a license. She was fined $50 and costs on each charge. She also signed waivers of destruction on the seized property.

Neil L. Staley was fined $50 and costs in the court of Squire Raymond Ewing of New Cumberland when he pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping and exhibiting gaming devices.

Troopers said the citations were issued on sight violations. The raid at the Club 66 occurred at 5:15 p. m. while the one at the Night Corral was at 7:30 p. m.

The woman was headed north when her sedan was hit by a station wagon operated by Mallick, according to officers, who said the woman apparently failed to yield the right-of-way.

14 Receive Injuries During Area Mishaps

Fourteen persons — six on motorcycles — were injured in seven traffic mishaps investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon over the weekend.

Four Cleveland area cyclists, belonging to a group with "Animals" inscribed on their jackets, were injured when five of the bikes flipped Saturday about a half-mile north of Wellsville.

—:—

ADMITTED to City Hospital was Debbie Latour, 18, lacerations of the face, contusions of the head, ribs, and spine. Treated was James Bagocius, 22, of Euclid, lacerations and contusions of the right elbow.

Two others complained of injuries, but were not treated, the patrol reported.

Officers said the mishap occurred on Route 7 at 11:50 a.m. when the lead bike slowed and the Bagocius cycle, also trying to slow, went out of control and slid into a bike operated by Allan J. Koman, 27. A third bike, driven by Eluadore Cranage Jr., 37, of Willoughby, flipped while trying to avoid the others.

Two other cycles also flipped when they went off the berm in an attempt to go around the lead bikes.

TWO LISBON men were injured as the result of a second motorcycle mishap Saturday.

"Fair" at Salem City Hospital is Charles E. Hutcheson, 23, of Grant St., a fractured left leg, lacerations of the left leg, possible spine injury and shock. Treated was a passenger on the bike, Robbin Seidner, 21, abrasions of the body.

Patrolmen said the mishap took place on Route 172, 2½ miles east of Route 9, at 5 p. m. when the 1968 model bike veered off the west side of the road on a curve and crashed into an embankment.

—:—

FOUR district residents were injured in a two-car collision near Salineville Saturday at 1:03 p. m.

Treated at City Hospital were David English, 20, of 1118 Perry Ave., East Liverpool, home on leave from the Navy, lacerations of the forehead; Mrs. Patricia Messinger, 23, of 118 E. Main St., Salineville, contusions of the head; Floyd Rogers, 71, of Salineville RD 1, a passenger in the English car, contusions of the right shoulder and hip, and Nancy Hancock, 20, of 1828 Michigan Ave., East Liverpool, a passenger in the Messinger car, contusions of the head, right arm and knee.

Gerald Spencer, 67, of Salineville RD 1, also a passenger in the English car, was noticibly injured but preferred to make his own arrangements for treatment, officers said.

Officers said the mishap occurred on Township Rd. 719 about a half-mile south of Route 39 when the Messinger 1968 model coach, westbound, was struck on the side by the 1965 convertible, operated by English, which failed to halt for a stop sign at the intersection with Township Rd. 774.

The right front of the coach and the front of the convertible were damaged heavily, officers said.

English was cited by the patrol for failure to halt at a stop sign.

—:—

THREE CITY women complained of injuries but said they would make their own arrangements for treatment following a two-car collision on County Rd. 428, Saturday at 5 p. m.

Injured were Lola Avent, 20, of 1517½ St. Clair Ave., and a passenger in her car, Delores L. Palmer, 22, of 1517½ St. Clair Ave. Also complaining of injuries was Shirley Mae White, 32, of Sprucevale Rd. RD 1, driver of a 1967 coach.

Officers reported the coach was northbound on County RD. 428, when it collided with the southbound 1965 sedan, driven by Avent, which was left of center, as the two cars crested a hill. Avent was cited by the patrol for driving left of center.

A Calcutta woman was charged with driving while intoxicated as the aftermath of a two-car collision on Route 170, about a mile north of Route 30, Sunday at 10:15 p. m.

Clara Gourley, 56, of Calcutta RD 3, was cited after her 1962 coach crashed into a 1968 sedan, operated by Susan Glitsch, 17, of Beaver Falls.

The Glitsch car was halted at a stop sign when the Gourley car swung too wide making a left turn, officers said.

A 1959 sedan, driven by Gary V. Jackson, 29, of Carol Rd., was damaged heavily Saturday when it crashed into a utility pole on Route 7 about two miles north of Route 30, officers said.

Jackson was cited for reckless operation following the 10 p. m. mishap, patrolmen added.

A Midland man was cited following a car-truck collision on Route 14, a half-mile west of Route 165, Sunday at 4:45 p.m.

Officers charged Harry Noah of 728 Beaver Ave., with driving while intoxicated after his 1967 coach, pulling from a private drive, was struck by a 1967 truck operated by Dewey Harmon, 43, of East Palestine.

Question Due To Council On Pay Of Judge

Does the Ohio "modern courts" law provide for a salary increase for Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff?

That question may be posed to Council tonight at a special meeting by Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger. It is expected to be referred to Solicitor J. Michael Kapp for a ruling.

Nearly $3,500 is at stake. The judge, now paid $13,808, advised the auditor that the new statute entitles him to a salary of $17,233.

Zollinger replied that funds must be appropriated — a responsibility of Council—before they can be disbursed. He will refer the question to Council, which will pass it on to its legal adviser. Kapp said he does not expect to rule until later in the month.

Approved by voters at the May 8 primaries, the law went into effect on June 10, according to the interpretation placed on it by the Ohio Supreme Court. It covers judges of the Supreme Court, appellate judges, 185 common pleas court judges and 90 probate judges, but not Municipal Court and county court judges, the Associated Press reported from Columbus.

The local judge's salary is paid three-fifths by the city and two-fifths by the county. He contends the formula set in the law, based on population of the judicial district, would hike his pay from $13,808 to $17,233.

Council's meeting will begin at 7. It was scheduled initially to consider legislation creating a so-called assessment equalization board in anticipation of sanitary sewer projects the city will undertake. The board will be comprised of Theodore Scheffer, Edwin Maloney and Everett Croft.

Boy Is Injured By Cherry Bomb

A Wellsville area boy is "satisfactory" at City Hospital with multiple burns and abrasions suffered when a "cherry bomb" exploded as he was holding it.

Nathan L. Smith, son of Clinton Smith of Wellsville RD 1, was admitted Sunday night to the hospital with a laceration of the right thumb, powder burns of the fingers and abrasions and burns of the right leg.

The family told the hospital someone threw the bomb on the porch and the child picked it up just before it exploded.

Drownings Claim Eight Ohioans Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

A tense drama unfolded on the Miami River south of Dayton Sunday when a motorboat containing 10 persons drifted over a dam and crashed into rocks in swirling rapids.

Rescuers saved seven people, but three were missing and presumed drowned. A search for their bodies was to be resumed today.

The Dayton victims were among eight Ohioans who drowned over the weekend.

Believed drowned in the Miami River accident were Junior Ben Holt, owner of the 14-foot fiberglass boat; Shirley Williams, 30, and her son, Warren, 7. Holt and the Williamses were neighbors in Dayton.

Montgomery County sheriff's deputies gave this account of the accident:

Holt's boat was pulling Woodford Williams, the drowned woman's husband, on water skis when its engine stopped. The boat started drifting downriver toward the dam and Holt jumped into the water to try with Williams to keep it from floating over the dam.

Mrs. Williams and Holt's wife Mattie, 26, and the six children of the two couples remained on the boat.

Another boater, Francis Kimberlin of Dayton, went to the aid of the disabled craft and towed it 100 yards upstream from the dam. He left the boat there and returned to get Williams and Holt out of the water.

As Kimberlin was rescuing the men, Holt's boat began floating rapidly downstream back toward the levy. He again threw a line to the boat, but this time the women had panicked and would not tie the line to the boat.

The boat went over the dam with Holt hanging onto the side, crashed into the rapids and became wedged between the rocks.

Several witnesses pulled Williams and Kimberley Williams, 4, and Robert Holt, 7, out of the water.

Members of Box 21, a Dayton rescue unit, and other boaters rescued seven of the 10.

In another weekend water accident, two children and their grandfather drowned Saturday while boating in the lake at Harrison State Park near Wauseon.

The victims were Aaron Thurman, 57, Rt. 4, Swanton, and Patricia Terry, 7, and her brother Garry Terry, 7, both of Rt. 5, Swanton.

The highway patrol said Patricia fell into the lake and Thurman dived in after her. The boy then fell in.

Kenneth Wampler, 23, of Cleveland, drowned in Lake Erie Sunday after he jumped into the water to get his wife's purse. Wampler, and his wife Josephine, also 23, were fishing from a pier on Whiskey Island.

John Sammis, 18, Conneaut, drowned Sunday in Lake Erie off a private beach at his home, where he had been swimming.

Trudeau Victory Seen For Canada's Election

By MAX HARRELSON
Associated Press Writer

TORONTO (AP) — On the eve of Canada's national election, the key appears to be Trudeaumania.

Public opinion polls and newspaper surveys across the country say the Liberal party of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau is headed for a clear-cut victory largely due to the personality of Trudeau.

Unless there is a last-minute upset, Canada will return to a majority government for the first time since 1962. Several surveys give the Liberals more than 150 of the 264 seats in Parliament, or 17 more than needed for a majority.

In the 1965 election the Liberals, under Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, fell three votes short of a majority, but Pearson was able to carry on with a minority government until he resigned in April 20 to turn the government over to Trudeau. Trudeau dissolved Parliament on April 23 and called for the new election.

Although the 48-year-old Trudeau and the Conservative leader, Robert Stanfield, 53, were both new to the national political scene in Canada, it was Trudeau who drew the big crowds across the country and stirred the younger set to near-riot fervor.

Tuesday's election will be Canada's sixth in 11 years and it will be the first since 1958 which was not contested between the two veterans, Conservative John Diefenbaker and Pearson. Stanfield was chosen Conservative leader last September. He was formerly premier of Nova Scotia.

Stanfield was winding up his campaign with a full day in populous Ontario province. He will go to his home province for election day. Trudeau planned to spend most of the final day in his home province of Quebec, where he is carrying on a sharp fight with the separatists.

Special security precautions have been ordered as a result of separatists threats to appear in force to heckle the prime minister. Trudeau already had been given added protection after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles three weeks ago.

The expectations for a Trudeau victory are based partly on the latest Gallup poll, which shows an 18-point spread between the Liberals and the Conservatives, as compared to a seven-point spread in 1965.

In Canada it is the number of parliamentary seats rather than the popular vote that counts.

Meany Urges Elimination Of Union Discrimination

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Racial discrimination remains a major barrier to Negroes hunting jobs, and labor unions haven't done all they can to eliminate prejudice within their own ranks, the AFL-CIO said today.

But "this is not a time to give up, it is a time to fight harder" for equality, said George Meany, president of the 13.5 million-member labor federation.

Meany, in reports to a civil rights organization and the AFL-CIO magazine, The Federationist, said high unemployment or deadend jobs for Negroes are a major cause of the nation's social disorder.

Meany's message to the convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Atlantic City, N. J., also said that Negro gains in education, housing and other areas have been "laggard everywhere."

The delay in making Negro equality a reality is disheartening "but to be disheartened is not to be a defeatist," Meany said.

"Of course the progress of school integration has been disgracefully slow. Of course the evils of slum housing remain, and the twin escape hatches that have been opened this year —open housing in principle and more housing in fact—are narrowed by the weight of prejudice. Of course the goal of equal employment opportunity has been tarnished by those who seek to frustrate it," Meany said.

"Shall we for these reasons despair of America? We say no. We say that the answer is not to burn but to build," he said.

The Federationist report said that despite improvement through federal and private programs, Negro unemployment rates still indicate widespread discrimination in employment.

OEO Denies Funds Used For Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal agency that backed a controversial experiment to rehabilitate a Chicago street gang denies charges that program money was used to buy guns and make the group into a powerful criminal organization.

The Office of Economic Opportunity says there is no proof for charges made by a former member of the gang, "Blackstone Rangers," that part of the $927,000 program was used to obtain sawed-off shotguns and rifles.

The OEO also said there is no truth to the accusations made before a Senate investigation subcommittee last week by George Rose, a former warlord of the Rangers, that the pastor of a South Side Chicago church knew the gang was storing weapons in the basement.

The Rev. John R. Fry, who Rose said also allowed the First Presbyterian church to be used for marijuana parties, issued his own denial Sunday and said he would seek a contempt of Congress citation against Rose.

The Rev. Fry was to testify before the subcommittee today.

OEO Director Bertrand Harding, in a statement released Sunday, took to task those who he said accepted Rose's testimony at face value.

Station Wagon, Van Involved In Mishap

LISBON — An unidentified station wagon ran into the rear wheels of a moving van at 5:30 p.m. Sunday on E. Lincoln Way at Jackson St. (U.S. Route 30).

John E. Holmes, 27, of Fontana, Calif., told police a woman passenger in the station wagon was bleeding from the face and arm when the male driver left without identifying himself.

Holmes said he was driving north on Jackson St. and turned west onto Lincoln Way when the eastbound automobile failed to make the turn at Jackson and hit his left rear wheels.

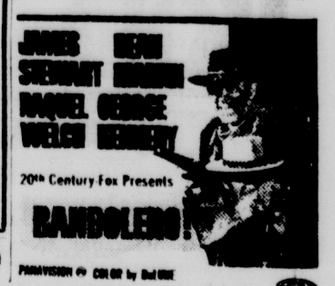

Officer Phil Prasco notified the Ohio Highway Patrol and police departments at East Liverpool and Wellsville to watch for a white 1962 or 1963 model station wagon. He received no more information about the vehicle or occupants.

Reports Boat Theft

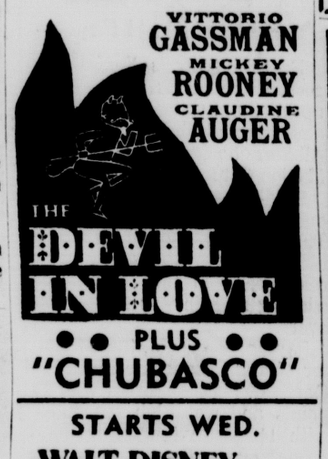

LISBON — Mike Kupinski of New Garden reported to the sheriff's office Sunday that his 15-foot aluminum boat was stolen between midnight and 8 a.m. yesterday from Spring Valley Lake on Woodsdale Rd. near Winona. He said the boat was painted dark blue and carried license number OH 3259 HC.

14 Receive Injuries During Area Mishaps

Fourteen persons — six on motorcycles — were injured in seven traffic mishaps investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon over the weekend.

Four Cleveland area cyclists, belonging to a group with "Animals" inscribed on their jackets, were injured when five of the bikes flipped Saturday about a half-mile north of Wellsville.

—:—

ADMITTED to City Hospital was Debbie Latour, 18, lacerations of the face, contusions of the head, ribs, and spine. Treated was James Bagocius, 22, of Euclid, lacerations and contusions of the right elbow.

Two others complained of injuries, but were not treated, the patrol reported.

Officers said the mishap occurred on Route 7 at 11:50 a.m. when the lead bike slowed and the Bagocius cycle, also trying to slow, went out of control and slid into a bike operated by Allan J. Koman, 27. A third bike, driven by Eluadore Cranage Jr., 37, of Willoughby, flipped while trying to avoid the others.

Two other cycles also flipped when they went off the berm in an attempt to go around the lead bikes.

TWO LISBON men were injured as the result of a second motorcycle mishap Saturday.

"Fair" at Salem City Hospital is Charles E. Hutcheson, 23, of Grant St., a fractured left leg, lacerations of the left leg, possible spine injury and shock. Treated was a passenger on the bike, Robbin Seidner, 21, abrasions of the body.

Patrolmen said the mishap took place on Route 172, 2½ miles east of Route 9, at 5 p. m. when the 1968 model bike veered off the west side of the road on a curve and crashed into an embankment.

—:—

FOUR district residents were injured in a two-car collision near Salineville Saturday at 1:03 p. m.

Treated at City Hospital were David English, 20, of 1118 Perry Ave., East Liverpool, home on leave from the Navy, lacerations of the forehead; Mrs. Patricia Messinger, 23, of 118 E. Main St., Salineville, contusions of the head; Floyd Rogers, 71, of Salineville RD 1, a passenger in the English car, contusions of the right shoulder and hip, and Nancy Hancock, 20, of 1828 Michigan Ave., East Liverpool, a passenger in the Messinger car, contusions of the head, right arm and knee.

Gerald Spencer, 67, of Salineville RD 1, also a passenger in the English car, was noticibly injured but preferred to make his own arrangements for treatment, officers said.

Officers said the mishap occurred on Township Rd. 719 about a half-mile south of Route 39 when the Messinger 1968 model coach, westbound, was struck on the side by the 1965 convertible, operated by English, which failed to halt for a stop sign at the intersection with Township Rd. 774.

The right front of the coach and the front of the convertible were damaged heavily, officers said.

English was cited by the patrol for failure to halt at a stop sign.

—:—

THREE CITY women complained of injuries but said they would make their own arrangements for treatment following a two-car collision on County Rd. 428, Saturday at 5 p. m.

Injured were Lola Avent, 20, of 1517½ St. Clair Ave., and a passenger in her car, Delores L. Palmer, 22, of 1517½ St. Clair Ave. Also complaining of injuries was Shirley Mae White, 32, of Sprucevale Rd. RD 1, driver of a 1967 coach.

Officers reported the coach was northbound on County RD. 428, when it collided with the southbound 1965 sedan, driven by Avent, which was left of center, as the two cars crested a hill. Avent was cited by the patrol for driving left of center.

A Calcutta woman was charged with driving while intoxicated as the aftermath of a two-car collision on Route 170, about a mile north of Route 30, Sunday at 10:15 p. m.

Clara Gourley, 56, of Calcutta RD 3, was cited after her 1962 coach crashed into a 1968 sedan, operated by Susan Glitsch, 17, of Beaver Falls.

The Glitsch car was halted at a stop sign when the Gourley car swung too wide making a left turn, officers said.

A 1959 sedan, driven by Gary V. Jackson, 29, of Carol Rd., was damaged heavily Saturday when it crashed into a utility pole on Route 7 about two miles north of Route 30, officers said.

Jackson was cited for reckless operation following the 10 p. m. mishap, patrolmen added.

A Midland man was cited following a car-truck collision on Route 14, a half-mile west of Route 165, Sunday at 4:45 p.m.

Officers charged Harry Noah of 728 Beaver Ave., with driving while intoxicated after his 1967 coach, pulling from a private drive, was struck by a 1967 truck operated by Dewey Harmon, 43, of East Palestine.

Question Due To Council On Pay Of Judge

Does the Ohio "modern courts" law provide for a salary increase for Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff?

That question may be posed to Council tonight at a special meeting by Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger. It is expected to be referred to Solicitor J. Michael Kapp for a ruling.

Nearly $3,500 is at stake. The judge, now paid $13,808, advised the auditor that the new statute entitles him to a salary of $17,233.

Zollinger replied that funds must be appropriated — a responsibility of Council—before they can be disbursed. He will refer the question to Council, which will pass it on to its legal adviser. Kapp said he does not expect to rule until later in the month.

Approved by voters at the May 8 primaries, the law went into effect on June 10, according to the interpretation placed on it by the Ohio Supreme Court. It covers judges of the Supreme Court, appellate judges, 185 common pleas court judges and 90 probate judges, but not Municipal Court and county court judges, the Associated Press reported from Columbus.

The local judge's salary is paid three-fifths by the city and two-fifths by the county. He contends the formula set in the law, based on population of the judicial district, would hike his pay from $13,808 to $17,233.

Council's meeting will begin at 7. It was scheduled initially to consider legislation creating a so-called assessment equalization board in anticipation of sanitary sewer projects the city will undertake. The board will be comprised of Theodore Scheffer, Edwin Maloney and Everett Croft.

Boy Is Injured By Cherry Bomb

A Wellsville area boy is "satisfactory" at City Hospital with multiple burns and abrasions suffered when a "cherry bomb" exploded as he was holding it.

Nathan L. Smith, son of Clinton Smith of Wellsville RD 1, was admitted Sunday night to the hospital with a laceration of the right thumb, powder burns of the fingers and abrasions and burns of the right leg.

The family told the hospital someone threw the bomb on the porch and the child picked it up just before it exploded.

Drownings Claim Eight Ohioans Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

A tense drama unfolded on the Miami River south of Dayton Sunday when a motorboat containing 10 persons drifted over a dam and crashed into rocks in swirling rapids.

Rescuers saved seven people, but three were missing and presumed drowned. A search for their bodies was to be resumed today.

The Dayton victims were among eight Ohioans who drowned over the weekend.

Believed drowned in the Miami River accident were Junior Ben Holt, owner of the 14-foot fiberglass boat; Shirley Williams, 30, and her son, Warren, 7. Holt and the Williamses were neighbors in Dayton.

Montgomery County sheriff's deputies gave this account of the accident:

Holt's boat was pulling Woodford Williams, the drowned woman's husband, on water skis when its engine stopped. The boat started drifting downriver toward the dam and Holt jumped into the water to try with Williams to keep it from floating over the dam.

Mrs. Williams and Holt's wife Mattie, 26, and the six children of the two couples remained on the boat.

Another boater, Francis Kimberlin of Dayton, went to the aid of the disabled craft and towed it 100 yards upstream from the dam. He left the boat there and returned to get Williams and Holt out of the water.

As Kimberlin was rescuing the men, Holt's boat began floating rapidly downstream back toward the levy. He again threw a line to the boat, but this time the women had panicked and would not tie the line to the boat.

The boat went over the dam with Holt hanging onto the side, crashed into the rapids and became wedged between the rocks.

Several witnesses pulled Williams and Kimberley Williams, 4, and Robert Holt, 7, out of the water.

Members of Box 21, a Dayton rescue unit, and other boaters rescued seven of the 10.

In another weekend water accident, two children and their grandfather drowned Saturday while boating in the lake at Harrison State Park near Wauseon.

The victims were Aaron Thurman, 57, Rt. 4, Swanton, and Patricia Terry, 7, and her brother Garry Terry, 7, both of Rt. 5, Swanton.

The highway patrol said Patricia fell into the lake and Thurman dived in after her. The boy then fell in.

Kenneth Wampler, 23, of Cleveland, drowned in Lake Erie Sunday after he jumped into the water to get his wife's purse. Wampler, and his wife Josephine, also 23, were fishing from a pier on Whiskey Island.

John Sammis, 18, Conneaut, drowned Sunday in Lake Erie off a private beach at his home, where he had been swimming.

Trudeau Victory Seen For Canada's Election

By MAX HARRELSON
Associated Press Writer

TORONTO (AP) — On the eve of Canada's national election, the key appears to be Trudeaumania.

Public opinion polls and newspaper surveys across the country say the Liberal party of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau is headed for a clear-cut victory largely due to the personality of Trudeau.

Unless there is a last-minute upset, Canada will return to a majority government for the first time since 1962. Several surveys give the Liberals more than 150 of the 264 seats in Parliament, or 17 more than needed for a majority.

In the 1965 election the Liberals, under Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, fell three votes short of a majority, but Pearson was able to carry on with a minority government until he resigned in April 20 to turn the government over to Trudeau. Trudeau dissolved Parliament on April 23 and called for the new election.

Although the 48-year-old Trudeau and the Conservative leader, Robert Stanfield, 53, were both new to the national political scene in Canada, it was Trudeau who drew the big crowds across the country and stirred the younger set to near-riot fervor.

Tuesday's election will be Canada's sixth in 11 years and it will be the first since 1958 which was not contested between the two veterans, Conservative John Diefenbaker and Pearson. Stanfield was chosen Conservative leader last September. He was formerly premier of Nova Scotia.

Stanfield was winding up his campaign with a full day in populous Ontario province. He will go to his home province for election day. Trudeau planned to spend most of the final day in his home province of Quebec, where he is carrying on a sharp fight with the separatists.

Special security precautions have been ordered as a result of separatists threats to appear in force to heckle the prime minister. Trudeau already had been given added protection after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles three weeks ago.

The expectations for a Trudeau victory are based partly on the latest Gallup poll, which shows an 18-point spread between the Liberals and the Conservatives, as compared to a seven-point spread in 1965.

In Canada it is the number of parliamentary seats rather than the popular vote that counts.

Meany Urges Elimination Of Union Discrimination

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Racial discrimination remains a major barrier to Negroes hunting jobs, and labor unions haven't done all they can to eliminate prejudice within their own ranks, the AFL-CIO said today.

But "this is not a time to give up, it is a time to fight harder" for equality, said George Meany, president of the 13.5 million-member labor federation.

Meany, in reports to a civil rights organization and the AFL-CIO magazine, The Federationist, said high unemployment or deadend jobs for Negroes are a major cause of the nation's social disorder.

Meany's message to the convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Atlantic City, N. J., also said that Negro gains in education, housing and other areas have been "laggard everywhere."

The delay in making Negro equality a reality is disheartening "but to be disheartened is not to be a defeatist," Meany said.

"Of course the progress of school integration has been disgracefully slow. Of course the evils of slum housing remain, and the twin escape hatches that have been opened this year —open housing in principle and more housing in fact—are narrowed by the weight of prejudice. Of course the goal of equal employment opportunity has been tarnished by those who seek to frustrate it," Meany said.

"Shall we for these reasons despair of America? We say no. We say that the answer is not to burn but to build," he said.

The Federationist report said that despite improvement through federal and private programs, Negro unemployment rates still indicate widespread discrimination in employment.

OEO Denies Funds Used For Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal agency that backed a controversial experiment to rehabilitate a Chicago street gang denies charges that program money was used to buy guns and make the group into a powerful criminal organization.

The Office of Economic Opportunity says there is no proof for charges made by a former member of the gang, "Blackstone Rangers," that part of the $927,000 program was used to obtain sawed-off shotguns and rifles.

The OEO also said there is no truth to the accusations made before a Senate investigation subcommittee last week by George Rose, a former warlord of the Rangers, that the pastor of a South Side Chicago church knew the gang was storing weapons in the basement.

The Rev. John R. Fry, who Rose said also allowed the First Presbyterian church to be used for marijuana parties, issued his own denial Sunday and said he would seek a contempt of Congress citation against Rose.

The Rev. Fry was to testify before the subcommittee today.

OEO Director Bertrand Harding, in a statement released Sunday, took to task those who he said accepted Rose's testimony at face value.

Station Wagon, Van Involved In Mishap

LISBON — An unidentified station wagon ran into the rear wheels of a moving van at 5:30 p.m. Sunday on E. Lincoln Way at Jackson St. (U.S. Route 30).

John E. Holmes, 27, of Fontana, Calif., told police a woman passenger in the station wagon was bleeding from the face and arm when the male driver left without identifying himself.

Holmes said he was driving north on Jackson St. and turned west onto Lincoln Way when the eastbound automobile failed to make the turn at Jackson and hit his left rear wheels.

Officer Phil Prasco notified the Ohio Highway Patrol and police departments at East Liverpool and Wellsville to watch for a white 1962 or 1963 model station wagon. He received no more information about the vehicle or occupants.

Reports Boat Theft

LISBON — Mike Kupinski of New Garden reported to the sheriff's office Sunday that his 15-foot aluminum boat was stolen between midnight and 8 a.m. yesterday from Spring Valley Lake on Woodsdale Rd. near Winona. He said the boat was painted dark blue and carried license number OH 3259 HC.

Tracewski's Homer Gives Tigers Split With Indians

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Tribe In Second, 6½ Games Behind

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was the faintest sign of a crack showing in Detroit's armor but Dick Tracewski's annual home run sealed it right up.

The Tigers had dropped three straight to Cleveland and another loss to the challenging Indians could have meant real trouble for the American League leaders.

So Manager Mayo Smith, taking no chances, went to his secret weapon, starting Tracewski in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader. The veteran infielder produced a three-run homer that carried the Tigers to a 4-1 victory after Luis Tiant had blanked them 3-0 in the first game.

In other American League action Sunday, Minnesota dropped New York 6-3, Oakland whacked Washington 9-0, California shaded Baltimore 3-2 and Boston split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning the first game 6-2 but dropping the rain-delayed nightcap 10-1.

Tracewski has hit one home run in five of his six major league seasons, missing only in 1966 when he was traded by the Los Angeles Dodgers to the Tigers. Blame that lapse on the adjustment to a new league.

The little infielder rocked Sam McDowell for his annual poke Sunday after a walk to Ray Oyler and a two-out error by Larry Brown set the stage in the fifth inning.

That was enough of a cushion for Joe Sparma and the victory kept Detroit's American League lead at 6½ games.

Tiant pitched a three-hitter in the opener, striking out nine and the Indians gave him a quick edge with a three-run first inning.

Max Alvis opened with a walk and singles by Brown and Jose Cardenal put Cleveland in front. Then Joe Azcue's double drove in two more runs.

Ted Uhlaender smacked five straight hits, scoring two runs and driving in another, as the Twins rocked the Yankees.

Jim Merritt scattered seven hits including homers by Andy Kosco and Horace Clarke and won his fifth game.

Jim Fregosi opened the ninth inning with his fifth home run of the year, beating Baltimore for California.

Until Fregosi connected, Vic Davalillo had done most of the Angel damage,, driving in two runs with a double and triple.

Don Buford homered for Baltimore.

Jim Nash pitched a four-hitter and the Athletics jumped on Washington's Bruce Howard for six runs in the first inning and coasted past the Senators.

Oakland sent 11 men to the plate and collected seven hits — six of them in a row — battering Howard in the first. Mike Hershberger's two-run double keyed the rally.

The Senators, who dropped their 10th game in the last 11, saved some face and perhaps some runs by executing the American League's second triple play in the third inning.

Pete Ward drove in five runs — three of them with a home run — and Chicago romped past Boston in the second game after Gary Bell's pitching and hitting had given the Red Sox the first game victory.

Jim Lonborg, making his second start, hit two batters and lasted for only five pitches in the second game before retiring with a sore arm.

Bernie Allen's three-run homer Friday night got a lot of play in the Washington papers.

A streamer across the top of Page 1 noted that Allen and Frank Howard had led the Senators out of an eight-game losing streak. The story inside had this to say: "The Senators' slugger (Howard) increased his team-leading batting average to .307, but breathing hard behind him is Allen. The Washington club second baseman (Allen), the club's hottest hitter the last 10 days, became the first player to make four hits in the Oakland Coliseum when he added three singles to his second home run. He also scored twice and is now batting .306".

JEFF HALL of Beaver Local pitched a no-hitter in the Inter-City Class A baseball league last week. Hall pitches for WSOM—Lease Drug of Salem and threw the gem against Akron, fanning 12 and walking two. He also squeezed in the lone run of the seven-inning game.

WALT ALSTON, who started managing the Dodgers in 1954, has seen 92 major league managerial changes during his term with Brooklyn and Los Angeles. The Tigers have used 11 managers in the 14-year period and the Athletics 10, the Indians nine and the Pirates five.

Fred Haney, now Angel GM, was the Pirate skipper in 1954.

SOME FRIENDS of mine Saturday night had dinner at "The Golden Arm", Johnny Unitas' restaurant in Baltimore, and reported it an excellent place.

East Liverpool's Earl Diddle scored five points as the North upset the South 116-93 in the ninth annual Ohio High School All-Star basketball game at Marion Saturday night.

Diddle had two baskets and one for one from the foul line. The win was the third straight for the North, which now holds a 6-3 edge in the series. The winning margin was the largest ever.

Payton Townsend, the 6-7 center of state runner-up Hamilton Garfield, led all scorers with 29 points and was high rebounder with 14. South teammate John Fraley of Middletown, Ohio's player of the year, added 23, but the North had too much balance.

Reds Win Pair

McCovey's 2 Homers Hand Pirates 2-1 Loss

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie McCovey is a firm believer in that maxim: Out of sight, out of mind. And he's getting his message across to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McCovey unloaded a pair of tape measure home runs Sunday, giving Juan Marichal and the San Francisco Giants a 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh. . .and driving the Pirates up the walls of cavernous Forbes Field.

"I don't get any thrill out of hitting the ball real far. . .I just want it to go out of the park," said the slugging first baseman, who has hit seven of his National League leading 18 homers in the Giants' last seven games against the Pirates.

Marichal's 14th victory—tops in the majors—enabled the second-place Giants to trim one-half game off St. Louis' league lead. The Cardinals had their seven-game winning string sliced by Atlanta 5-1 in the opener of a doubleheader, but rebounced for a 3-1 second game victory that left them 6½ lengths in front.

Cincinnati swept a twin bill from the Chicago Cubs 9-8 and 4-3, the nightcap going 11 innings, while the New York Mets edged Los Angeles 5-4 and Houston tripped Philadelphia 7-4 in other single games.

McCovey took exception to his own rule in the first inning at Pittsburgh when the first of his two homers off Jim Bunning sailed onto the 86-foot high roof of the double deck right field stands. "I watched it all the way," he admitted. "I knew it cleared the stands."

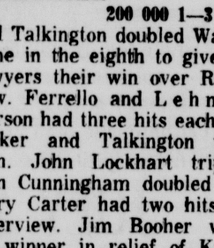

But he shrugged off a reminder that the roof had been reached only 12 times before in Forbes Field's 59-year history. "That sounds like quite a lot to me," said Willie.

McCovey's second homer—and third in two games—was a 425-foot blast into the right center field stands that gave Marichal a 2-0 margin in the third.

The Giants' ace blanked the Pirates until the eighth, when Maury Wills singled, extending his hitting streak to 22 games, and scored on Matty Alou's double.

While Marichal was taming the Pirates, a pair of unheralded hurlers—Atlanta reliever Cecil Upshaw and St. Louis southpaw Mel Nelson—divided the spoils before a record regular season crowd of 49,743 at Busch Stadium.

What gets under Chevrolet's skin?

Only the toughest truck components in the business!

Beneath Chevrolet's thick skin (double-walled in most places) lies a truck chassis built for punishment. A heavy-gauge steel frame provides the solid backbone for this inner strength. While a host of durable driveline components supply the muscle. Enough to whip most any job.

Of course, the heart of all this brawn is a Chevrolet engine. Six or V8, all are built for stamina. They last longer because of such things as induction-hardened crankshaft journals. Inexpensive to operate, too. All run on regular gasoline.

Keeping everything riding smoothly is the job of Chevy's famed independent front suspension. And what a job it does! Combined with tough coil springs, front and rear, this suspension system cushions the entire truck from jarring road shock.

So you see, beautiful engineering is more than skin deep on Chevrolet.

Tracewski's Homer Gives Tigers Split With Indians

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Bernie Allen's three-run homer Friday night got a lot of play in the Washington papers.

A streamer across the top of Page 1 noted that Allen and Frank Howard had led the Senators out of an eight-game losing streak. The story inside had this to say: "The Senators' slugger (Howard) increased his team-leading batting average to .307, but breathing hard behind him is Allen. The Washington club second baseman (Allen), the club's hottest hitter the last 10 days, became the first player to make four hits in the Oakland Coliseum when he added three singles to his second home run. He also scored twice and is now batting .306".

JEFF HALL of Beaver Local pitched a no-hitter in the Inter-City Class A baseball league last week. Hall pitches for WSOM—Lease Drug of Salem and threw the gem against Akron, fanning 12 and walking two. He also squeezed in the lone run of the seven-inning game.

WALT ALSTON, who started managing the Dodgers in 1954, has seen 92 major league managerial changes during his term with Brooklyn and Los Angeles. The Tigers have used 11 managers in the 14-year period and the Athletics 10, the Indians nine and the Pirates five.

Fred Haney, now Angel GM, was the Pirate skipper in 1954.

SOME FRIENDS of mine Saturday night had dinner at "The Golden Arm", Johnny Unitas' restaurant in Baltimore, and reported it an excellent place.

Tribe In Second, 6½ Games Behind

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was the faintest sign of a crack showing in Detroit's armor but Dick Tracewski's annual home run sealed it right up.

The Tigers had dropped three straight to Cleveland and another loss to the challenging Indians could have meant real trouble for the American League leaders.

So Manager Mayo Smith, taking no chances, went to his secret weapon, starting Tracewski in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader. The veteran infielder produced a three-run homer that carried the Tigers to a 4-1 victory after Luis Tiant had blanked them 3-0 in the first game.

In other American League action Sunday, Minnesota dropped New York 6-3, Oakland whacked Washington 9-0, California shaded Baltimore 3-2 and Boston split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning the first game 6-2 but dropping the rain-delayed nightcap 10-1.

Tracewski has hit one home run in five of his six major league seasons, missing only in 1966 when he was traded by the Los Angeles Dodgers to the Tigers. Blame that lapse on the adjustment to a new league.

The little infielder rocked Sam McDowell for his annual poke Sunday after a walk to Ray Oyler and a two-out error by Larry Brown set the stage in the fifth inning.

That was enough of a cushion for Joe Sparma and the victory kept Detroit's American League lead at 6½ games.

Tiant pitched a three-hitter in the opener, striking out nine and the Indians gave him a quick edge with a three-run first inning.

Max Alvis opened with a walk and singles by Brown and Jose Cardenal put Cleveland in front. Then Joe Azcue's double drove in two more runs.

Ted Uhlaender smacked five straight hits, scoring two runs and driving in another, as the Twins rocked the Yankees.

Jim Merritt scattered seven hits including homers by Andy Kosco and Horace Clarke and won his fifth game.

Jim Fregosi opened the ninth inning with his fifth home run of the year, beating Baltimore for California.

Until Fregosi connected, Vic Davalillo had done most of the Angel damage,, driving in two runs with a double and triple.

Don Buford homered for Baltimore.

Jim Nash pitched a four-hitter and the Athletics jumped on Washington's Bruce Howard for six runs in the first inning and coasted past the Senators.

Oakland sent 11 men to the plate and collected seven hits — six of them in a row — battering Howard in the first. Mike Hershberger's two-run double keyed the rally.

The Senators, who dropped their 10th game in the last 11, saved some face and perhaps some runs by executing the American League's second triple play in the third inning.

Pete Ward drove in five runs — three of them with a home run — and Chicago romped past Boston in the second game after Gary Bell's pitching and hitting had given the Red Sox the first game victory.

Jim Lonborg, making his second start, hit two batters and lasted for only five pitches in the second game before retiring with a sore arm.

Diddle Gets 5, North Upsets South Stars

East Liverpool's Earl Diddle scored five points as the North upset the South 116-93 in the ninth annual Ohio High School All-Star basketball game at Marion Saturday night.

Diddle had two baskets and one for one from the foul line. The win was the third straight for the North, which now holds a 6-3 edge in the series. The winning margin was the largest ever.

Payton Townsend, the 6-7 center of state runner-up Hamilton Garfield, led all scorers with 29 points and was high rebounder with 14. South teammate John Fraley of Middletown, Ohio's player of the year, added 23, but the North had too much balance.

Doug Alt of Class A state champ Mansfield St. Peter and Tom Darden of Sandusky had 19 each and 6-9 Al Vilcheck of Euclid added 18. Roger Evans had 15, Bob Howell 11 and Jess Gregory and Stan White 10 each. Dan Furlong and Kent Johnson each had 10 for the losers. The crowd was set at 3,400.

Reds Win Pair

McCovey's 2 Homers Hand Pirates 2-1 Loss

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie McCovey is a firm believer in that maxim: Out of sight, out of mind. And he's getting his message across to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McCovey unloaded a pair of tape measure home runs Sunday, giving Juan Marichal and the San Francisco Giants a 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh. . .and driving the Pirates up the walls of cavernous Forbes Field.

"I don't get any thrill out of hitting the ball real far. . .I just want it to go out of the park," said the slugging first baseman, who has hit seven of his National League leading 18 homers in the Giants' last seven games against the Pirates.

Marichal's 14th victory—tops in the majors—enabled the second-place Giants to trim one-half game off St. Louis' league lead. The Cardinals had their seven-game winning string sliced by Atlanta 5-1 in the opener of a doubleheader, but rebounced for a 3-1 second game victory that left them 6½ lengths in front.

Cincinnati swept a twin bill from the Chicago Cubs 9-8 and 4-3, the nightcap going 11 innings, while the New York Mets edged Los Angeles 5-4 and Houston tripped Philadelphia 7-4 in other single games.

McCovey took exception to his own rule in the first inning at Pittsburgh when the first of his two homers off Jim Bunning sailed onto the 86-foot high roof of the double deck right field stands. "I watched it all the way," he admitted. "I knew it cleared the stands."

But he shrugged off a reminder that the roof had been reached only 12 times before in Forbes Field's 59-year history. "That sounds like quite a lot to me," said Willie.

McCovey's second homer—and third in two games—was a 425-foot blast into the right center field stands that gave Marichal a 2-0 margin in the third.

The Giants' ace blanked the Pirates until the eighth, when Maury Wills singled, extending his hitting streak to 22 games, and scored on Matty Alou's double.

While Marichal was taming the Pirates, a pair of unheralded hurlers—Atlanta reliever Cecil Upshaw and St. Louis southpaw Mel Nelson—divided the spoils before a record regular season crowd of 49,743 at Busch Stadium.

Howell Blanks Steubenville, Fans 16 For Post 374

Wheeling Beaten In Sunday Game

East Liverpool American Legion Post 374 ran its record to 3-0 in the Ohio Valley legion league with an 8-0 win at Steubenville Saturday night and then won an exhibition game at Wheeling yesterday 8-4.

Jerry Howell pitched a two-hit shutout against Steubenville and Dan Cunningham had four hits. Tom Chambers hit a homer estimated at 420 feet. Gary (Mike) Carouso had a double and Bob Bartram and Bill Montgomery two hits each as Post 374 lathered loser Zarych for 13 hits.

Bartram and Montgomery singled in the first, moved up on a wild pitch and Cunningham drove in both tallies with a single.

Bartram drove in two runs with a hit in the second and later scored on a hit by Cunningham.

Howell fanned 16, walked four and hit two. He was in trouble only in the sixth, when Steubenville loaded the bases with two out.

Yesterday, Post 374 had to overcome a 3-0 deficit to win. Dan Myers got the win in relief of Caruso. Montgomery and Cunningham led the attack with three hits each. Dick Rose had two hits. Means had three hits, including a double, for Wheeling.

Caruso was wild in the first, walking four and allowing a hit before Myers replaced him.

Post 374 scored in the third when Montgomery doubled and Cunningham was safe on an error. Rex Campbell singled in two runs. In the fifth Bartram tripled, Montgomery and Cunningham singled, Campbell was safe on an error and Chambers singled. Chambers stole second and third and scored on an infield out.

Make-up games mean a busy schedule for Post 374 this week. The team travels to Columbiana tonight and to Weirton Wednesday. Salem and Leetonia are played at Midland Thursday and Friday and Post 374 is at Tiltonsville Saturday.

Frazier 4-1 Choice Over Ramos Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Manuel Ramos, a 4-1 underdog, is expected to shoot the works early in a desperate attempt to dethrone five-state heavyweight champion Joe Frazier in a 15-round title fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

"It only takes one punch to turn a fight around," said Gil Clancy. "Ramos can punch pretty good but he better get Frazier quick because the champ keeps coming at you. If Ramos can nail him everyone may be in for a surprise."

Clancy, co-manager and trainer of former middleweight champion Emile Griffith, worked with the tall, 24-year-old Mexican champion for a week. He will be in his corner tonight.

The general opinion of the experts was that the 6-foot-3 Ramos' only chance to win was to get in the big bomb quickly. The unbeaten 24-year-old Frazier has been floored only three times in his career, all in the second round.

Frazier's record is 20-0, including 18 knockouts. Ramos' record is 20-6-2, including 16 knockouts. He has won 15 straight, 12 of them by knockouts and nine of them in three rounds or less. Ramos never has been floored or stopped. His face is unmarked.

Frazier, as usual, won't be hard to find.

"I'm coming out smoking, like I always do," he said. "I hope it ends right after the bell sounds."

"I know he'll be coming and I'll be ready," said Ramos. "He can punch but so can I. I didn't come here to lose."

The bout will be telecast coast to coast, but New York and a 90-mile area round the city will be blacked out of the telecast.

Starting time is 9:30 p.m., EDT.

Frazier is recognized as world champion by New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts and Maine.

Alcindor Will Play Again For UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lew Alcindor, the giant UCLA center, says he'll be back with the Bruins for his senior year instead of becoming an instant millionaire in professional basketball.

"I'm looking forward to next season—and I'm still optimistic about our chances," remarked Alcindor, who has led UCLA to two consecutive national collegiate titles.

Before leaving for New York for summer vacation, Alcindor told a newsman he's bothered by rumors that he might quit college basketball immediately, perhaps to sign a $1 million contract with the Harlem Globetrotters.

"The NCAA is going to begin wondering, 'Who's he talking to now?' or 'What does he have up his sleeve?' They could make it rough on me—and I don't want that," he said.

"I want to play my remaining year of college."

Alcindor conceded he's talked to important professionals in the game—but only socially. He's a friend of Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain and Boston's Bill Russell, for instance.

Alcindor's summer will be spent working with underprivileged children in New York. He will conduct twice-daily basketball clinics for youngsters in the New York Housing Authority.

E. Liverpool Wins In 11th In Tri-County

East Liverpool had to go 11 innings to edge Irondale 6-5 in a Tri-County League baseball game yesterday.

The game was played at Irondale but East Liverpool served as the home team. The winning run scored when Bob Madish was safe on an error and Billy Miller singled to drive him home. Moore was the winning pitcher.

Whittington had a homer and a single and Nick Marshbanks a double and triple to lead the winners. Madish had a double and single, Miller two hits, and Kidder a double.

For Irondale, Grimm had a double and single, Miller, Scarpino and Frampton two hits and E. Hale, S. Whickam and Furbee doubles. J. Urick was the losing pitcher.

Tony Horton Injures Knee, Out A Week

CLEVELAND (AP) — First baseman Tony Horton will be lost to the Cleveland Indians for at least a week, and maybe longer, as the result of an injury to his left knee suffered Sunday in the seventh inning of the second game between the Indians and the Detroit Tigers.

Horton was injured when his leg buckled under him as he made an unsuccessful attempt to tag Mickey Stanley in a rundown. He was taken to Shaker Medical Center hospital for X-rays.

"Right now it's a little too early to pass judgment, but it doesn't look good," said team physician Dr. Vic Ippolito.

Canadian Sandy Post Seeks Win

Associated Press Sports Writer

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Sandra Post attempted a rare feat today in meeting defending champion Kathy Whitworth in an 18-hole playoff for the Ladies' PGA title at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Miss Post, who turned 20 just two weeks ago, had a chance to double her money earnings in her first year on the pro golf tour as she teed off against a veteran, who set a record by winning more than $44,000 in 1967.

Sandy, a resident of Oakville, Ont., a small town near Toronto, sought to become the first foreign player to win the LPGA Championship and also break a long standing hex on rookies.

A first-year player has not won an LPGA tournament since Judy Kimball captured the American Women's Classic at Minneapolis in 1961.

Miss Whitworth, a 29-year-old Texan, attempted to join Mickey Wright as the only player to win the LPGA Championship more than once. Miss Wright, a four-time winner, finished 10th with an 11-over-par 72-hole total of 303 Sunday.

Miss Post, laughing off pressure before a record crowd of 15,000, and Miss Whitworth matched par 73s in the fourth round to finish deadlocked with 294s.

Germany's Gerda Whalen had a 72 for 295 and third money of $1,800.

Jets Lose 7th Straight, Fall To 4th

By The Associated Press

Several teams have put together hot streaks this season and moved upward in the International League standings, but few have taken a quicker tumble downward than the Columbus Jets.

Just eight days ago the Jets were sailing along in first place with a 2½-game lead. Today, after losing seven straight and eight of their last nine starts, the Jets are fourth—four games off the pace.

The Rochester Red Wings continued the Jets' losing streak—and moved into second place—by beating Columbus in both ends of a Sunday doubleheader, 4-3 and 9-8, the second game going 10 innings.

The Jacksonville Mets dropped Buffalo to fifth place, beating the Bisons twice, 6-3 and 5-1. The Richmond Braves knocked off the front-running Toledo Mud Hens 7-4, and Louisville and Syracuse split, the Colonels taking the opener 6-4 in 10 innings and the Chiefs winning the nightcap 2-1.

Dave May's homer in the sixth inning proved decisive in the opener, in which Rochester scored three times in the first inning. Two hits and two walks forced home the winning Rochester run in the 12th in the nightcap, in which Chuck Hiller hit a three-run homer for Columbus.

Chuck Harrison hit a three-run homer and Gil Garrido banged out four hits as Richmond ended a seven-game win streak for Toledo starter Jim Rooker.

At the end of 1967 a total of 31 denominations of pure nickel coins was in circulation in 17 countries, and 228 denominations of cupro-nickel coins were in circulation in 79 countries.

Shoots Final-Round 66

Charles Edges Nicklaus For Canadian Open Title

TORONTO (AP) — It's getting to be a habit.

Bob Charles of New Zealand won the $125,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship Sunday and became the second golfer in eight days to ignore a final-round charge by Jack Nicklaus.

Lee Trevino did it a week earlier and won the U.S. Open.

Charles shot a four-under-par 66 during Sunday's final round for a six-under-par 274 and picked up $25,000.

Nicklaus, who staged a head-to-head battle with Charles over the final 18 holes of the 6,792-yard St. George's Golf Club layout, said later that the New Zealander's game was "just too good."

Charles went to the first tee Sunday afternoon with Nicklaus and Billy Casper. He was tied with George Knudson of Toronto for the lead at two-under 208.

Nicklaus, who started the round one stroke back, scored three-under 67 and won $15,000 for his second-place finish.

Bruce Crampton of Australia was alone at three-under 277 after a 66 for the day, while three-time winner Sam Snead, R. H. Sikes, Tom Weiskopf and Tommy Aaron were tied for fourth with one-under 279s. Jack Montgomery and Casper, the defending champion, were at par 280.

Knudson slipped to 73 and finished in a tie with six other at 281.

Knudson equalled the competitive course record Saturday of six-under 64 set by Al Balding in 1960 after scoring a hole-in-one in the second round Friday.

Charles now heads for the Cleveland Open at Lakewood, Ohio. The tourney starts Thursday.

Howell Blanks Steubenville, Fans 16 For Post 374

Wheeling Beaten In Sunday Game

East Liverpool American Legion Post 374 ran its record to 3-0 in the Ohio Valley legion league with an 8-0 win at Steubenville Saturday night and then won an exhibition game at Wheeling yesterday 8-4.

Jerry Howell pitched a two-hit shutout against Steubenville and Dan Cunningham had four hits. Tom Chambers hit a homer estimated at 420 feet. Gary (Mike) Carouso had a double and Bob Bartram and Bill Montgomery two hits each as Post 374 lathered loser Zarych for 13 hits.

Bartram and Montgomery singled in the first, moved up on a wild pitch and Cunningham drove in both tallies with a single.

Bartram drove in two runs with a hit in the second and later scored on a hit by Cunningham.

Howell fanned 16, walked four and hit two. He was in trouble only in the sixth, when Steubenville loaded the bases with two out.

Yesterday, Post 374 had to overcome a 3-0 deficit to win. Dan Myers got the win in relief of Caruso. Montgomery and Cunningham led the attack with three hits each. Dick Rose had two hits. Means had three hits, including a double, for Wheeling.

Caruso was wild in the first, walking four and allowing a hit before Myers replaced him.

Post 374 scored in the third when Montgomery doubled and Cunningham was safe on an error. Rex Campbell singled in two runs. In the fifth Bartram tripled, Montgomery and Cunningham singled, Campbell was safe on an error and Chambers singled. Chambers stole second and third and scored on an infield out.

Make-up games mean a busy schedule for Post 374 this week. The team travels to Columbiana tonight and to Weirton Wednesday. Salem and Leetonia are played at Midland Thursday and Friday and Post 374 is at Tiltonsville Saturday.

Frazier 4-1 Choice Over Ramos Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Manuel Ramos, a 4-1 underdog, is expected to shoot the works early in a desperate attempt to dethrone five-state heavyweight champion Joe Frazier in a 15-round title fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

"It only takes one punch to turn a fight around," said Gil Clancy. "Ramos can punch pretty good but he better get Frazier quick because the champ keeps coming at you. If Ramos can nail him everyone may be in for a surprise."

Clancy, co-manager and trainer of former middleweight champion Emile Griffith, worked with the tall, 24-year-old Mexican champion for a week. He will be in his corner tonight.

The general opinion of the experts was that the 6-foot-3 Ramos' only chance to win was to get in the big bomb quickly. The unbeaten 24-year-old Frazier has been floored only three times in his career, all in the second round.

Frazier's record is 20-0, including 18 knockouts. Ramos' record is 20-6-2, including 16 knockouts. He has won 15 straight, 12 of them by knockouts and nine of them in three rounds or less. Ramos never has been floored or stopped. His face is unmarked.

Frazier, as usual, won't be hard to find.

"I'm coming out smoking, like I always do," he said. "I hope it ends right after the bell sounds."

"I know he'll be coming and I'll be ready," said Ramos. "He can punch but so can I. I didn't come here to lose."

The bout will be telecast coast to coast, but New York and a 90-mile area round the city will be blacked out of the telecast.

Starting time is 9:30 p.m., EDT.

Frazier is recognized as world champion by New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts and Maine.

Alcindor Will Play Again For UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lew Alcindor, the giant UCLA center, says he'll be back with the Bruins for his senior year instead of becoming an instant millionaire in professional basketball.

"I'm looking forward to next season—and I'm still optimistic about our chances," remarked Alcindor, who has led UCLA to two consecutive national collegiate titles.

Before leaving for New York for summer vacation, Alcindor told a newsman he's bothered by rumors that he might quit college basketball immediately, perhaps to sign a $1 million contract with the Harlem Globetrotters.

"The NCAA is going to begin wondering, 'Who's he talking to now?' or 'What does he have up his sleeve?' They could make it rough on me—and I don't want that," he said.

"I want to play my remaining year of college."

Alcindor conceded he's talked to important professionals in the game—but only socially. He's a friend of Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain and Boston's Bill Russell, for instance.

Alcindor's summer will be spent working with underprivileged children in New York. He will conduct twice-daily basketball clinics for youngsters in the New York Housing Authority.

E. Liverpool Wins In 11th In Tri-County

East Liverpool had to go 11 innings to edge Irondale 6-5 in a Tri-County League baseball game yesterday.

The game was played at Irondale but East Liverpool served as the home team. The winning run scored when Bob Madish was safe on an error and Billy Miller singled to drive him home. Moore was the winning pitcher.

Whittington had a homer and a single and Nick Marshbanks a double and triple to lead the winners. Madish had a double and single, Miller two hits, and Kidder a double.

For Irondale, Grimm had a double and single, Miller, Scarpino and Frampton two hits and E. Hale, S. Whickam and Furbee doubles. J. Urick was the losing pitcher.

Tony Horton Injures Knee, Out A Week

CLEVELAND (AP) — First baseman Tony Horton will be lost to the Cleveland Indians for at least a week, and maybe longer, as the result of an injury to his left knee suffered Sunday in the seventh inning of the second game between the Indians and the Detroit Tigers.

Horton was injured when his leg buckled under him as he made an unsuccessful attempt to tag Mickey Stanley in a rundown. He was taken to Shaker Medical Center hospital for X-rays.

"Right now it's a little too early to pass judgment, but it doesn't look good," said team physician Dr. Vic Ippolito.

Canadian Sandy Post Seeks Win

Associated Press Sports Writer

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Sandra Post attempted a rare feat today in meeting defending champion Kathy Whitworth in an 18-hole playoff for the Ladies' PGA title at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Miss Post, who turned 20 just two weeks ago, had a chance to double her money earnings in her first year on the pro golf tour as she teed off against a veteran, who set a record by winning more than $44,000 in 1967.

Sandy, a resident of Oakville, Ont., a small town near Toronto, sought to become the first foreign player to win the LPGA Championship and also break a long standing hex on rookies.

A first-year player has not won an LPGA tournament since Judy Kimball captured the American Women's Classic at Minneapolis in 1961.

Miss Whitworth, a 29-year-old Texan, attempted to join Mickey Wright as the only player to win the LPGA Championship more than once. Miss Wright, a four-time winner, finished 10th with an 11-over-par 72-hole total of 303 Sunday.

Miss Post, laughing off pressure before a record crowd of 15,000, and Miss Whitworth matched par 73s in the fourth round to finish deadlocked with 294s.

Germany's Gerda Whalen had a 72 for 295 and third money of $1,800.

Jets Lose 7th Straight, Fall To 4th

By The Associated Press

Several teams have put together hot streaks this season and moved upward in the International League standings, but few have taken a quicker tumble downward than the Columbus Jets.

Just eight days ago the Jets were sailing along in first place with a 2½-game lead. Today, after losing seven straight and eight of their last nine starts, the Jets are fourth—four games off the pace.

The Rochester Red Wings continued the Jets' losing streak—and moved into second place—by beating Columbus in both ends of a Sunday doubleheader, 4-3 and 9-8, the second game going 10 innings.

The Jacksonville Mets dropped Buffalo to fifth place, beating the Bisons twice, 6-3 and 5-1. The Richmond Braves knocked off the front-running Toledo Mud Hens 7-4, and Louisville and Syracuse split, the Colonels taking the opener 6-4 in 10 innings and the Chiefs winning the nightcap 2-1.

Dave May's homer in the sixth inning proved decisive in the opener, in which Rochester scored three times in the first inning. Two hits and two walks forced home the winning Rochester run in the 12th in the nightcap, in which Chuck Hiller hit a three-run homer for Columbus.

Chuck Harrison hit a three-run homer and Gil Garrido banged out four hits as Richmond ended a seven-game win streak for Toledo starter Jim Rooker.

At the end of 1967 a total of 31 denominations of pure nickel coins was in circulation in 17 countries, and 228 denominations of cupro-nickel coins were in circulation in 79 countries.

Shoots Final-Round 66

Charles Edges Nicklaus For Canadian Open Title

TORONTO (AP) — It's getting to be a habit.

Bob Charles of New Zealand won the $125,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship Sunday and became the second golfer in eight days to ignore a final-round charge by Jack Nicklaus.

Lee Trevino did it a week earlier and won the U.S. Open.

Charles shot a four-under-par 66 during Sunday's final round for a six-under-par 274 and picked up $25,000.

Nicklaus, who staged a head-to-head battle with Charles over the final 18 holes of the 6,792-yard St. George's Golf Club layout, said later that the New Zealander's game was "just too good."

Charles went to the first tee Sunday afternoon with Nicklaus and Billy Casper. He was tied with George Knudson of Toronto for the lead at two-under 208.

Nicklaus, who started the round one stroke back, scored three-under 67 and won $15,000 for his second-place finish.

Bruce Crampton of Australia was alone at three-under 277 after a 66 for the day, while three-time winner Sam Snead, R. H. Sikes, Tom Weiskopf and Tommy Aaron were tied for fourth with one-under 279s. Jack Montgomery and Casper, the defending champion, were at par 280.

Knudson slipped to 73 and finished in a tie with six other at 281.

Knudson equalled the competitive course record Saturday of six-under 64 set by Al Balding in 1960 after scoring a hole-in-one in the second round Friday.

Charles now heads for the Cleveland Open at Lakewood, Ohio. The tourney starts Thursday.

First Open Wimbledon Starts Today

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Three American tennis stars, all ranked in the top 10, stood in the path of Australian pro Rod Laver as he started his bid for the first open Wimbledon title today.

Laver, top seeded, had to play Eugene Scott of New York City, ranked No. 9 in the American list, in the first round on the No. 1 court.

If Laver wins, he probably will find himself facing two more U.S. stars later in the week—Stan Smith, ranked 7th, from Pasadena, Calif., in the second round, as Marty Riessen, No. 5, from Evanston, Ill., in the third.

It's six years since the great Australian left-hander last won Wimbledon. Now the change to open tennis has brought him back into the world's most famous tennis arena.

The six pros controlled by American promoter George MaCall—Laver, Ken Rosewall, Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle of Australia, Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles and Andres Gimeno of Spain—are entered in the men's singles.

So are Lamar Hunt's Handsome Eight troupe-defending champion John Newcombe and Tony Roche of Australia, Denni Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, Roger Taylor of Britain, Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia and Pierre Barthes of France.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Three American tennis stars, all ranked in the top 10, stood in the path of Australian pro Rod Laver as he started his bid for the first open Wimbledon title today.

Laver, top seeded, had to play Eugene Scott of New York City, ranked No. 9 in the American list, in the first round on the No. 1 court.

If Laver wins, he probably will find himself facing two more U.S. stars later in the week—Stan Smith, ranked 7th, from Pasadena, Calif., in the second round, as Marty Riessen, No. 5, from Evanston, Ill., in the third.

It's six years since the great Australian left-hander last won Wimbledon. Now the change to open tennis has brought him back into the world's most famous tennis arena.

The six pros controlled by American promoter George MaCall—Laver, Ken Rosewall, Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle of Australia, Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles and Andres Gimeno of Spain—are entered in the men's singles.

So are Lamar Hunt's Handsome Eight troupe-defending champion John Newcombe and Tony Roche of Australia, Denni Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, Roger Taylor of Britain, Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia and Pierre Barthes of France.

Soccer Fans Stampede At Argentina Stadium

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Ignoring a loudspeaker warning that a gate was closed, hundreds of soccer fans stampeded as they tried to leave Argentina's largest stadium Sunday and trampled 71 persons to death.

Police said 83 persons were injured, many of them seriously. Most of the dead and injured were men.

It was Argentina's worst sports disaster and recalled the worst such in the history of sports, a stampede at a soccer match in Lima, Peru, in 1964 in which 328 persons were killed.

The Argentine tragedy occurred just at sundown on a chilly winter afternoon at Gate 12, one of the 24 entrance-exit gates around the Estadio Monumental, the 90,000 seat home of the River Plate Soccer Club.

The stadium was full for the match between River Plate and Boca Juniors, which ended in a scoreless tie. As the crowd began to leave a jam developed at Gate 12, because the one-way entrance turnstiles had not been removed there. Stadium officials said the fans were warned by loudspeaker not to leave by that gate.

The stampeding crowd swept away the turnstiles in their panic.

Most were Boca Junior fans from the cheapest seats in the stadium. When the panic ended, the dead and injured were sprawled on the concrete staircases and ramp leading to the gate. Within a few minutes, dozens of ambulances rushed to the stadium.

Jose Maria Pereyra, 32, was jammed against the turnstiles and knocked unconscious. Revived on the playing field, he told a newsman:

"The loudspeakers said not to use the gate, but everyone ignored the warning. I was caught in the crowd and carried toward the gate. I saw the crush coming but I couldn't do anything about it."

"When the first persons fell," said Hugo Paez, "those coming behind found themselves trapped between the people on the floor and the rest of the crowd pushing from behind.

"The pressure of the crowd was tremendous and pushed people over those who had fallen first. More persons fell to the ground as the confusion and the panic mounted. I found myself pushed off the ground by the crowd, and I landed outside the stadium without injury."

The police reported that many of the victims were suffocated.

The owners of the Boca Juniors said the club would pay for funeral and medical expenses since most of the victims were Boca fans.

THE PEARL TRADITION

Bridal dresses today are so attractively designed, that they need very little in the way of jewelry to set them off. However, for many decades, a simple strand of pearls, pendant or earrings, has been a natural accompaniment. One reason for this is the lovely legend that has grown up around pearls.

Besides being the birthstone for June, the month in which most weddings occur, pearls symbolize modesty and purity. Ancient legends from the Orient indicated that pearls fashioned binding ties and cemented love and friendship. Pearls were not only used on women's garments, but also on ceremonial robes worn by priests, and embroidered on lavish tapestries hung on palace walls. According to etiquette, pearls, plus the marriage diamonds, are the only proper jewels on this great occasion.

The American Gem Society, of which I am a member, published an informative page in SEVENTEEN magazine in April. If you have a young daughter, no doubt she has seen this advertisement, and hopefully, learned one or two points about cultured pearls. In past cultures, gifts of fine jewelry were first given to a young girl by her parents. Even today, a mother or father will present a loved daughter with a fine strand of cultured pearls at the time she reaches her sixteenth birthday, graduates from school, or marries. Pearls are also traditional as the gift from the groom, although this is often in the form of a pin or earrings, since the bride, in many cases, already possesses her pearl strand.

Poor Ironer Asks Help

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I feel like a moron. I'm sure nobody ever has written to you about this problem because I'm probably the only one in the country who's dumb enough to ask it. I'm the world's lousiest ironer.

My husband has been very nice about it. His shirts always look terrible and I'm ashamed of myself. No matter how hard I try I can't do better. I've scorched so many collars I decided it would be better to have the iron too cold than too hot. So now his shirts look as if they have not been ironed at all.

Our daughters are growing up and I want their blouses and dresses to look fresh and crisp like the little girls they play with, but I just can't manage it.

I'm getting an inferiority complex. It's awful to admit I'm too stupid to iron halfway decently when millions of women are able to do it. Can you help? — WRINKLED IN WHITTIER.

-:-

Dear Wrink: To be a good ironer does not take brains. It takes know-how, practice and patience. Go to a friend or neighbor whose ironing you admire. Ask her to let you watch her WASH and iron. See what she puts in the wash water. Several products on the market make ironing easier. Bring your own iron along on the second visit and iron alongside her. After the third or fourth session you should be well on your way.

In exchange for the lessons you can buy her an appropriate gift or bring over a standing rib roast, a casserole of escalloped potatoes and a cherry pie.

Confidentially

To Frightened, Ashamed and Can't Go On This Way: Your letter indicates that you do not know what homosexuality is. Every week I receive at least a dozen letters from women who display the same kind of ignorance. Have a talk with your family doctor. I hope he'll give you some reading material along with a few basic facts on married love.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Surinam, South America, was originally a British colony, while New York, (New Netherlands), was Dutch. In 1664 the British seized New Netherland and in 1667, the Dutch captured Surinam. This swap of colonies was formalized in the 1667 Treaty of Breda. In 1673 the Dutch retook New York and renamed it New Orange. It was restored to the British in 1674. Surinam, also known as Dutch Guiana, is still a Dutch possession.

Trial To Resume Today In Slaying Of Club Operator

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — John Galayda was expected to resume testifying today at his trial on charges of killing a West Virginia night club operator.

Galayda, 38, of Monessen, spent an hour on the stand during a special Saturday session and denied killing Anthony Scotchell, who was found stuffed in the trunk of a car with four bullets in him.

Galayda testified that Scotchell served as a "tipster" for John Krukar, who he said would rob houses after Scotchell had determined whether they contained valuables.

Krukar, who was tabbed earlier in the trial as the man who fired the first shot into Scotchell's head, was found shot to death along a West Virginia road two months ago.

Bonnie Jo Schroyer, a former girlfriend of Galayda, testified earlier that Galayda told her he killed Scotchell because Scotchell had seen a murder two years ago. Galayda denied he accusation Saturday.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Aid For A Teething Baby

DEAR HELOISE: May I suggest a hint that I've found absolutely terrific for a teething baby?

Heloise

First fill a sterilized nipple with water from the baby's bottle. Then put the nipple down in a small glass and put it in your freezer. You'll find that the nipple, when frozen, makes the greatest teether imaginable!

Just put the hard nipple back on his baby bottle and let your youngster chew away.

RENEE M.

-:-

You are so right, Renee. The nipple is as hard as a rock to begin with and as the bottle itself contains no frozen water, it isn't too cold for the baby's hands.

Thanks for your great suggestion.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Before I buy a new appliance or any of the many wonderful conveniences that are on the market today, I give it this test:

How often will I use it?

Where will I store it?

How difficult will it be to keep clean?

And how heavy is it to lift or carry about?

I buy all the lightweight items I possibly can.

Think of the energy women use lifting, carrying and moving things (furniture excluded) about the house.

MRS. W. B.

DEAR HELOISE: I buy large, very soft paper napkins for my boys and husband to use as everyday handkerchiefs.

I find this a perfect solution for lost cotton ones and a tremendous saving on laundry work. They are sturdier and larger than regular tissues and my menfolk prefer them.

I save their good linen handkerchiefs for church and other special occasions.

EMILY L.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who have bamboo fishing rods with wrappings, try wiping some paste wax along the pole.

It is a wonderful preservative for fishing tackle. Sure protects it from salt water attack.

Another thing I learned was to use spray wax on all metal joints. Makes the rod easier to assemble and take down and also protects it.

LUCILE.

DEAR HELOISE: How can I keep scum from forming on top of my jar of olives? I am about to cry. . .they cost so much nowadays.

MARY HILL.

DEAR MARY: Now don't you cry, honey. Next time you open a new bottle, pour about ¼" of salad oil on top of the brine.

This will keep that scum from forming. And as you remove each olive from the jar, the oil will give it a shiny appearance and keep it from shriveling.

If you want a real flavor treat, put a few drops of garlic juice in that brine, shake, let set, and see what that does!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When we camp, we usually cook over a wood fire. This, of course, makes our pots and pans very black on the outside and can cause a lot of tiresome scrubbing.

A simple way to prevent this is to rub a layer of liquid dishwashing detergent over the bottom and sides before placing it on the fire.

When you have finished cooking the soot will wipe off with a wet cloth quick as a wink!

LINDA.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous amount of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Aid For A Teething Baby

DEAR HELOISE: May I suggest a hint that I've found absolutely terrific for a teething baby?

Heloise

First fill a sterilized nipple with water from the baby's bottle. Then put the nipple down in a small glass and put it in your freezer. You'll find that the nipple, when frozen, makes the greatest teether imaginable!

Just put the hard nipple back on his baby bottle and let your youngster chew away.

RENEE M.

-:-

You are so right, Renee. The nipple is as hard as a rock to begin with and as the bottle itself contains no frozen water, it isn't too cold for the baby's hands.

Thanks for your great suggestion.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Before I buy a new appliance or any of the many wonderful conveniences that are on the market today, I give it this test:

How often will I use it?

Where will I store it?

How difficult will it be to keep clean?

And how heavy is it to lift or carry about?

I buy all the lightweight items I possibly can.

Think of the energy women use lifting, carrying and moving things (furniture excluded) about the house.

MRS. W. B.

DEAR HELOISE: I buy large, very soft paper napkins for my boys and husband to use as everyday handkerchiefs.

I find this a perfect solution for lost cotton ones and a tremendous saving on laundry work. They are sturdier and larger than regular tissues and my menfolk prefer them.

I save their good linen handkerchiefs for church and other special occasions.

EMILY L.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who have bamboo fishing rods with wrappings, try wiping some paste wax along the pole.

It is a wonderful preservative for fishing tackle. Sure protects it from salt water attack.

Another thing I learned was to use spray wax on all metal joints. Makes the rod easier to assemble and take down and also protects it.

LUCILE.

DEAR HELOISE: How can I keep scum from forming on top of my jar of olives? I am about to cry. . .they cost so much nowadays.

MARY HILL.

DEAR MARY: Now don't you cry, honey. Next time you open a new bottle, pour about ¼" of salad oil on top of the brine.

This will keep that scum from forming. And as you remove each olive from the jar, the oil will give it a shiny appearance and keep it from shriveling.

If you want a real flavor treat, put a few drops of garlic juice in that brine, shake, let set, and see what that does!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When we camp, we usually cook over a wood fire. This, of course, makes our pots and pans very black on the outside and can cause a lot of tiresome scrubbing.

A simple way to prevent this is to rub a layer of liquid dishwashing detergent over the bottom and sides before placing it on the fire.

When you have finished cooking the soot will wipe off with a wet cloth quick as a wink!

LINDA.

For Cracks, Holes In Wood

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For repairing cracks and holes in wooden items there are a number of materials available.

Not any one type, however, will do for all patching situations. Picking the right one and applying it properly is the only way of being certain of good results.

Nail holes, cracks and such can be filled with a ready-mixed plastic or putty substance. There also are compounds in dry powder form which are mixed with a liquid before using.

Cabinet-makers have a system for making wood filler which is excellent when you are working on a project and the material is available or if you have some of the same wood around.

ALL THAT is required is some fine sawdust from the same wood and a good wood glue. Mix these to form a putty and you have a wood filler that is the same color as the original and which will not shrink.

Plastic compounds are quite common. They consist of wood powder and an adhesive mixed together. They come in can or tube, dry quickly and result in a dense, tough compound. Experimentation with brands will tell you which dries smoothest —some are fairly coarse.

The neutral or so-called natural wood color is used when the surface will be painted over. When a clear finish is used another problem arises. Wood plastic compounds will not take stain. If the wood surface has no finish, do your staining before making the repairs.

Then buy a wood filler that is the same color. Manufacturers provide a variety of tinted patching materials. Tinting colors can sometimes be used to color a neutral filler before applying.

ORDINARY linseed oil putty is often used as a wood filler. It handles easily, is easy to smooth and because of this can be smoothed out thinly over a surface.

Since linseed oil putty doesn't get very hard, however, it does not have the strength of the wood plastics and it cannot be used for building up corners or edges. It is best for tiny cracks and nail holes.

Linseed oil putty can be used outdoors where expansion and contraction are often problems.

You can paint over putty but it will not absorb a stain. Putty can be tinted in advance with oil colors to a shade that is close to that of the wood.

Do not apply putty to raw wood. It will stick better to wood that has been primed. Use paint, linseed oil or a sealer.

If you have a quantity of patching to do, try the dry powder compounds which are cheaper than the ready-mixed. Unlike the ready-mix stuff, the dry powder will keep indefinitely. Once mixed with water, however, it hardens quickly.

One quality this has over the ready-mix is that it can be applied in thin layers. You can feather an edge and do a neater, smoother job.

Since this cannot be tinted once it is hard, the powder must be tinted by adding colors which are also available in powder form.

Steel Fears Hauling Jam

CLEVELAND (AP)—With a steel strike threatened for Aug. 1 producers are meeting delivery schedules, but there are fears about possible transportation tie-ups next month, Steel Magaine said today.

"They're especially worried about customers who schedule their own truck and rail transportation, and whose somewhat lackadaisical approach to the shipping problem has already created minor delivery jams," the magazine added.

The metalworking weekly predicted that mill shipments of finished steel may reach a record 10.25 million net tons in July as consumers press for deliveries before the steel labor contract expires July 31.

Steel pointed out that the previous record was 10.1 million tons in April 1965, another strike threat year.

Shipments in August and beyond are expected to average no more than 6 million tons a month, a drop of 34 per cent from the first seven months' average, the magazine added.

However the 1963 total may reach 93.3 million for an annual shipment record, Steel added.

For the week ended June 22 the magazine estimated raw steel production was unchanged from the preceding week's 2,776,000 tons.

Question: Over the past year, I have read at least half a dozen articles telling how to apply an antique finish to wood — and each of them was different. Isn't there any generally recognized way of getting an antique finish?

I'm asking because I'd like to apply the kind of finish I see on French Provincial furniture to an old bureau from which I have stripped the old finish. The wood is in good condition.

ANSWER: During the next year, you'll probably read many more articles on do-it-yourself antiquing, possibly again finding no two methods that are alike.

Everybody has his own pet way of antiquing. Basically, though, the procedure calls for the application of an enamel undercoat followed by a glazing mixture which is wiped with a clean cloth in light, stroking movements.

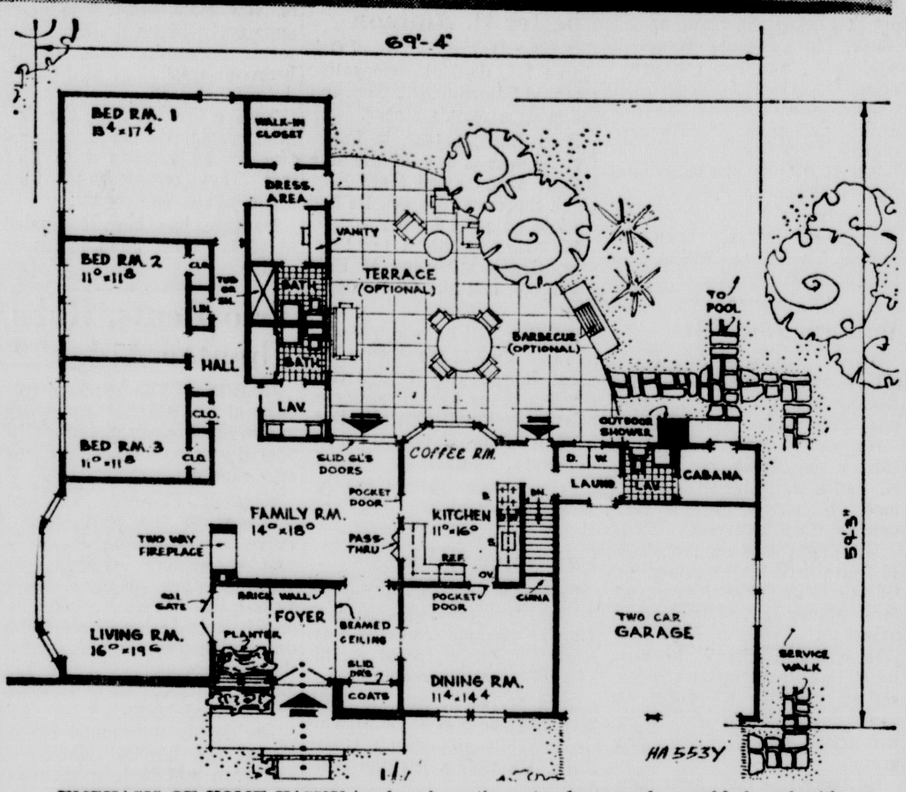

You can buy antiquing kits which contain all the ingredients and instructions. Or you can buy the enamel undercoater and mix your own glaze.

One glaze mixture calls for two teaspoons of raw umber oil color and a half pint of satin-sheen varnish. Another recipe is one teaspoon of burnt turkey umber, three tablespoons of raw sienna and five tablespoons of linseed oil.

Still another is made from three tablespoons of turpentine, one of clear varnish and one and one - half of burnt turkey umber. The antique effect comes from the manner in which the glaze is wiped. The best advice we can give you is to do some testing on scrap wood before tackling that bureau of yours.

Denver Negroes Schedule March

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Members of Denver's Negro community decided Sunday to hold a mass meeting and parade through downtown Denver streets Tuesday afternoon to call attention to grievances and make demands to city officials.

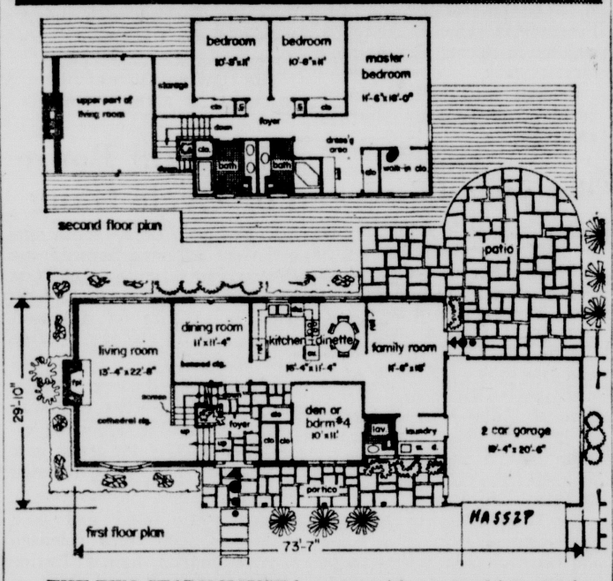

The decision, after an uneasy weekend in some areas of the city following the shooting early Saturday of a policeman and a Negro youth, was announced by State Sen. George Brown, D-Denver, the first Negro elected to the Colorado Legislature.

Brown urged all of Denver's estimated 40,000 Negroes to attend the meeting and walk in the parade which will start and end in front of the Denver city and county building and will pass by police headquarters.

Brown said the Negroes would "answer indictments and insinuations against the black community," explain "what really causes riotous situations" and present "a series of important demands" to city officials.

A policeman and a Negro youth allegedly exchanged gunshots early Saturday morning. The youth was seriously wounded, and police had to use tear gas to break up crowds of mostly young Negroes who were breaking window and looting in two areas of the city.

Added Touch Gives House 'Curb Appeal'

Does your house have curb appeal — that touch of individuality that attracts attention from passersby? Or, does it look like every other house on the block?

Builders say there's a trend away from the look-alike houses often found in community developments.

Today, a home owner wants his house to be individualistic. Yet, he may not be willing or able to pay the cost of a custom - designed home.

Many residential builders are solving the problem with stock materials that have design flexibility. The home owner gets a house that's different from his neighbor's, but costs are kept down.

Since windows make up as much as one - third of wall area, and entrances are a focal point of any house exterior, stock wood windows and entryways are among the most effective means of achieving design flexibility and "curb appeal."

What's more, window and door treatments are a natural way to reflect architectural decor, and quality stock wood units are readily available.

Ponderosa pine windows, panel doors and complete, ready-to-assemble entryways, for example, come in stock sizes and a variety of styles to suit individual tastes and house designs.

All window styles are obtainable with insulating glass and handy removable grilles that give the glass a distinctive divided - pane appearance. Even stock wood shutters are versatile. They're available with louvers, wood panels, and a number of attractive panel inserts.

By combining the homeowner's chice of window and door styles with different exterior siding materials, the builder can construct a Colonial, traditional or contemporary house from the same basic blueprints.

Individualistic window and door treatments can make the difference between a house that looks custom - designed, and one that appears to have been stamped out with a cookie-cutter.

Gunfire Kills 189 In Week

By The Associated Press

Gunfire killed 189 persons in the United States, a week-long survey by The Associated Press shows, and most of the deaths were homicides. The survey, ended at midnight Sunday, was taken during the same week President Johnson signed an anticrime bill containing gun-control provisions.

The shooting deaths included 109 homicides, 64 suicides and 16 accidents.

In 1966, the last year for which FBI figures are available, there was an average of 125 shooting homicides a week.

Demands for tighter gun-control measures were made after the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—all killed by guns.

Proponents of gun control blame loose traffic in firearms for thousands of deaths each year.

President Johnson signed an omnibus anticrime bill last Wednesday, which contained a gun-control section. More stringent laws on gun control are being considered by Congress.

Two of the provisions in the crime bill:

—Prohibit interstate mail-order sales of handguns and also their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state and to people under 21.

—Make illegal the possession of any firearms by felons, mental incompetents, aliens illegally in the country, Americans who have renounced their citizenship and veterans who receive other than an honorable discharge.

A measure pending before Congress and sponsored by the President would ban mail-order sales of all firearms, including rifles and shotguns.

Board At Pittsburgh To Adopt New Book

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Board of Education is expected to adopt today a new history textbook endorsed by some of the citizens groups which have criticized the treatment of Negro history in the city's schools.

A board spkoesman said Sunday swift adoption of the book "Land of the Free" is expected at the board's monthly meeting.

"The book is one we have been considering for some time, long before we heard from the various groups," the spokesman said.

Gun Proponent Uses Very Strong Words

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., said he has received several hundred communications urging his support of gun control legislation, including one from a caller who told his secretary: "If Long doesn't get a gun control bill through Congress within two weeks, I'll shoot him."

William Howard Taft, in 1910, was the first president to throw out the ball at a baseball opener.

Cleveland Soldier Sentenced To Labor

MANNHEIM, Germany (AP) —A Cleveland soldier, Army Spec. 4 Paul V. Mielnik, 21, was sentenced to four years at hard labor by a court-martial Saturday after conviction of unpremeditated murder.

Witnesses said Mielnik shot himself accidentally in the left thigh and right foot and then fatally shot Spec. 4 Charles Freddie Van Landingham, 22, of Bruce, Miss., after leaving a tavern in Kaiserlautern on July 15, 1967.

Norris Dodd Dies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Norris Edward Dodd, 88, former undersecretary with the Department of Agriculture, died Sunday. Dodd, who was chosen in 1948 as director general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, was honored by the National Farmers Union for outstanding service in 1954, the year he retired.

The free world's consumption of nickel has doubled during the last 10 years. In 1967, an estimated 825,00,000 pounds of the hard white metal were consumed.

Added Touch Gives House 'Curb Appeal'

Does your house have curb appeal — that touch of individuality that attracts attention from passersby? Or, does it look like every other house on the block?

Builders say there's a trend away from the look-alike houses often found in community developments.

Today, a home owner wants his house to be individualistic. Yet, he may not be willing or able to pay the cost of a custom - designed home.

Many residential builders are solving the problem with stock materials that have design flexibility. The home owner gets a house that's different from his neighbor's, but costs are kept down.

Since windows make up as much as one - third of wall area, and entrances are a focal point of any house exterior, stock wood windows and entryways are among the most effective means of achieving design flexibility and "curb appeal."

What's more, window and door treatments are a natural way to reflect architectural decor, and quality stock wood units are readily available.

Ponderosa pine windows, panel doors and complete, ready-to-assemble entryways, for example, come in stock sizes and a variety of styles to suit individual tastes and house designs.

All window styles are obtainable with insulating glass and handy removable grilles that give the glass a distinctive divided - pane appearance. Even stock wood shutters are versatile. They're available with louvers, wood panels, and a number of attractive panel inserts.

By combining the homeowner's chice of window and door styles with different exterior siding materials, the builder can construct a Colonial, traditional or contemporary house from the same basic blueprints.

Individualistic window and door treatments can make the difference between a house that looks custom - designed, and one that appears to have been stamped out with a cookie-cutter.

Gunfire Kills 189 In Week

By The Associated Press

Gunfire killed 189 persons in the United States, a week-long survey by The Associated Press shows, and most of the deaths were homicides. The survey, ended at midnight Sunday, was taken during the same week President Johnson signed an anticrime bill containing gun-control provisions.

The shooting deaths included 109 homicides, 64 suicides and 16 accidents.

In 1966, the last year for which FBI figures are available, there was an average of 125 shooting homicides a week.

Demands for tighter gun-control measures were made after the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—all killed by guns.

Proponents of gun control blame loose traffic in firearms for thousands of deaths each year.

President Johnson signed an omnibus anticrime bill last Wednesday, which contained a gun-control section. More stringent laws on gun control are being considered by Congress.

Two of the provisions in the crime bill:

—Prohibit interstate mail-order sales of handguns and also their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state and to people under 21.

—Make illegal the possession of any firearms by felons, mental incompetents, aliens illegally in the country, Americans who have renounced their citizenship and veterans who receive other than an honorable discharge.

A measure pending before Congress and sponsored by the President would ban mail-order sales of all firearms, including rifles and shotguns.

Board At Pittsburgh To Adopt New Book

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Board of Education is expected to adopt today a new history textbook endorsed by some of the citizens groups which have criticized the treatment of Negro history in the city's schools.

A board spkoesman said Sunday swift adoption of the book "Land of the Free" is expected at the board's monthly meeting.

"The book is one we have been considering for some time, long before we heard from the various groups," the spokesman said.

Gun Proponent Uses Very Strong Words

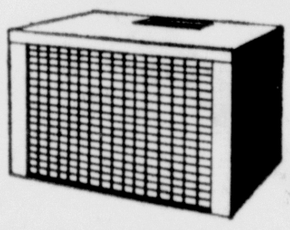

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., said he has received several hundred communications urging his support of gun control legislation, including one from a caller who told his secretary: "If Long doesn't get a gun control bill through Congress within two weeks, I'll shoot him."

William Howard Taft, in 1910, was the first president to throw out the ball at a baseball opener.

Step-By-Step Procedure Given For Toilet Repairs

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The typical flush - type toilet tank has remained pretty much unchanged over the years. Parts are easy to come by and in spite of what the average person thinks, repairs are not terribly complicated.

When the tank doesn't operate properly, not only is there impaired efficiency, there is noise as well. And don't forget the waste of water which can be considerable over a period of time.

Take a look inside the tank sometime and watch how it works. Set the tank cover aside carefully. If you break it, you may have to buy a whole new outfit. Covers alone are hard to come by.

—:—

PUSHING down on the handle outside the tank raises a trip lever. This pulls a lift rod upward which lifts the tank ball off of its seat. This uncovers the opening at the bottom of the tank allowing the water from the tank to rush into the toilet bowl.

With the water inside the tank going down, a large float ball goes down with it. The float ball is connected by way of an arm to the inlet valve. As the ball and arm are depressed the valve opens to allow more water to rush in.

The tank ball floats upward (it is hollow at the bottom) when it is raised. But as the water level drops the ball falls back down and is reseated against the opening when the tank is emptied.

The fresh water holds the ball firmly against the seat. Meanwhile, the float ball is rising until it turns off the inlet valve as the water is restored to its former level.

There is a little more to it than that, such as part of the water entering through the inlet valve being diverted through another tube through the overflow tube into the bowl. That adds water to the bowl to seal the trap.

Understanding the operation, you will be able to determine where the trouble is.

—:—

THE PROBLEM most likely to occur is one in which water continues to run into the bowl and the tank itself never seems to fill up.

This is caused by the tank ball not being seated properly. Since the tank ball wears in time it is best to replace it. Turn off the water, or support the float arm with a piece of string tied to a stick placed across the top of the tank.

Unscrew the ball from the lift rod and replace with a new one.

If even a new ball doesn't seat properly the rod guide might need adjusting. This is a horizontal piece of metal fastened to the overflow tube.

Through the other end of it passes the lift rod. The guide can be moved to the left or right by loosening a setscrew where it is fastened to the overflow tube.

Sometimes the continuous run of water is not through the tank opening but from the inlet valve through the overflow tube. This happens when the inlet valve does not shut off after the water reaches the proper level.

The problem is either with the tank float or the inlet valve. Try the float first.

LIFT THE float ball manually. Raise it as high as it will go. If this stops the water running, unscrew the float ball and examine it. Sometimes it will develop a leak and partially fill with water. Replace it.

If that is not the trouble, then adjust the float arm which is made of heavy gauge wire. If the ball is not rising high enough, then bend the wire downward at its middle. This will allow the ball to rise higher than it would with a straight arm. You will have to experiment to get the right adjustment.

If the trouble is not with the float ball or arm, then the inlet valve itself may be at fault.

There is a washer inside at the top of the valve, right beneath the plunger that moves up and down. To reach this plunger you will have to remove the float arm linkage at the top of the valve. There may be either a setscrew or a pin. Then pull up the whole plunger to get at the washer.

A Decked Terrace — Plus

It's often been said that good landscaping makes a modest home look like a million.

But besides upgrading appearance, the right landscaping scheme adds real dollar value and can be considered a prime investment.

A delightful plan can begin with a decked terrace scooted out from the house at floor level. Structure and design can be simplicity itself — a large, square pad of fir 2-by-4s laid flat over a framework of joists, with an eighth-inch spacing left between 2-by-4s for rain runoff. Allowed to weather naturally, or with the help of a clear water repellent or bleaching oil, the silvered wood is a perfect complement to foliage and flower colors but requires little future attention.

The all - important privacy screening comes next. Favored designs keep the feeling deceptively light and open, often making use of thin wood strips, or slats, spaced and layered to produce the illusion of openness.

But combining wood with translucent plastic or tempered glass is another idea. It's particularly effective when the privacy screen is close enough to one side of the terrace to be handled as a wall, or when a tall screen is needed to separate the garden courtyard from a nearby driveway or the front yard.

AGAIN simplicity should rule design. The plastic or glass looks best if panels are full height, 18 to 30 inches wide, and framed by the strong lines of 4-by-4s. In keeping with a natural look, the framing should be weathered fir and the panels smoke colored rather than white or distinct hues.

Plantings against this screen can be minimum with good effect. On either side, a narrow, shallow pond equipped with a recirculating pump makes a pleasant accent when edged with clumps of a lacy, vertical plant such as nandina or bamboo. If a pond actually containing water is impractical, much the same effect can be achieved with a dry stream of river rocks.

Around the deck and in other beds throughout the yard, shrubs should be planted so that, at maturity, their branches will interweave, giving a dense, forested appearance to heighten the natural look and a sense of seclusion.

Broadleaf evergreens are the staples of the planting structure, with trees and needleleaf shrubs used as the accents, deciduous shrubs as softer fillers.

Shrubs can be brought right up on to the deck in containers massed together to achieve the same densely planted look. And containers can be used effectively elsewhere in the garden to reduce maintenance.

Defects In Masonry Call For Repairs In A Hurry

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

One of the best ways to break a leg or sprain an ankle is to disregard a loose brick in steps or platforms.

Outside of the risk one takes with a defect of this kind, there is a well - known fact that a mass of masonry goes to pieces very rapidly when one unit is loose. As soon as a brick becomes loose, the bricks on either side and in back of it are robbed of the former support and become loose themselves.

Some time ago a repair to brickwork involved buying a bag of cement and one of sand and doing some mixing. It was not the kind of task that the average home owner approached with relish. Today the picture is far more simple, since you can buy a small box pf prepared patching concrete, mix it with a little water and be ready to do a neat and quick job.

There is a certain formula for resetting a loose brick. In the first place, the loose brick should be removed and all patches of mortar chipped off until the brick is clean. It then should be placed in a bucket of water. The recess from which the brick is taken should be thoroughly cleaned out and all dust brushed out of it.

The next step is to soak the bottom and sides of the recess with water until it will not absorb any more. This is to keep the dry surfaces from drawing all the water out of the new patching concrete and causing it to shrink and crack when it dries.

When this preparation has been made you can open the box and mix the concrete in a bowl or bucket. It should be spread evenly all around the recess.

The brick should be removed from the water and buttered with a new mix, then set in place and pressed firmly until it is even with the surrounding surface. Excess patching cement which squeezes out should be cleaned off. The repair should be covered with a damp cloth for four days.

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — The Monongahela Power Co. has entered into a bulk power reliability agreement with other electric utilities from coast to coast as part of the newly - formed National Electric Reliability Council (NERC).

C. G. McVay, president of Monongahela Power, pointed out in his announcement of the membership in the council, that, across the nation, the average electric customer receives uninterrupted service more than 99.98 per cent of the time.

Membership in the National Electric Reliability Council, McVay said, is made up of 12 regional utility organizations. Monongahela and its sister companies in the Allegheny Power System, along with 23 other companies, belong to the East Central Area Reliability (ECAR) coordination agreement. J. Suggestions Are Given For A Finished Room

By ANDY LANG

If there's one place you can exercise your individuality, it's in the creation of a finished room in the attic or basement.

Because you generally are starting from scratch, you don't have to choose a motif that seems to fit the size and shape of the room.

There's usually enough available space to construct the room the way you want it to make it suitable for the intended purpose. The materials you choose for the walls, ceiling and floor then become part of the overall atmosphere rather than a base for the decorations.

You can be as far out as you want in such a room without fear of being thought eccentric.

In fact, guests will admire daring and originality in the makeup of an attic or basement room, whereas a display of the same qualities in the preparation of a regular room in the house might be considered outlandish, bizarre or ostentatious.

—:—

IF YOU'RE a landlubber with a secret desire to go to sea, that extra room can be done in nautical decor, using such things as a ship's steering wheel, a compass, porthole windows, a rope banister and so on.

Like ultramodern furnishings but haven't had the nerve to use them up to now? Here's your chance, remembering to start with the room materials themselves.

Want to bring the outside inside? A ceiling that looks like the sky, including a sprinkling of stars, is a good start in that direction, with resilient floor tiles designed to stimulate rugged stones.

Not until you look and inquire will you discover what a great variety of products are manufactured to satisfy the wishes of persons who want something different.

Whether you are thinking about an extra room in any of the previously mentioned themes, or in a motif relating to sports, the circus, the rodeo, music, a hunting lodge, recreation art, Early American, Latin American, a nightclub or anything else that strikes your fancy, you're sure to find accounterments that will help you to accomplish your objective.

—:—

IN SELECTING from among the almost unbelievably large number of wall materials now on the market, you'll have to decide whether you want your particular choice to be prefinished.

Doors Have Language That's All Their Own

Like most building materials, doors have a terminology all their own. Words like cornice, pilaster and finial may be Greek (or Latin) to home owners, but to builders each word defines a particular part of an entrance.

Translation: a cornice is a horizontal projection of molded wood set on two slender columns or pilasters, and generally crowned with an ornamental ball called a finial.

Other door terms that are common vernacular to builders, but may be unfamiliar to laymen, are:

Rails — the horizontal framework of a door.

Stiles — the vertical framework of a door.

Crossbuck — an x-shaped bar design like that used in the bottom half of a Dutch door. Also known as a St. Andrew's Cross.

Traditional designs like the St. Andrew's Cross — originally created by skilled craftsmen to mirror old - world religious superstitions (holy signs were supposed to keep evil spirits from entering a house) — are reproduced today in modern, precision - manufactured panel doors of ponderosa pine.

The symbolism may have faded, but the beauty of design remains. For instance, one of the most popular designs is the Colonial Cross and Bible door. It has four upper panels representing a cross, and two lower panels that symbolize an open Bible.

Sidelights — narrow glass panels set on either side of a door. They're ornamental, but also serve to admit light to the inside foyer.

Fan lights — glass panels that resemble an open fan. They are set either in the top of the door, or in a frame above it.

Cathedral lights — ornamental round - topped little windows modeled after stained glass church windows. Generally set in the top of the door.

Escutcheon — the plate into which the doorknob and keyhole are set. The word derives from shields on which heraldic arms were displayed.

Such unfamiliar names for ordinary door parts indicate the ancient history of one of our most taken - for - granted house features. But, while door talk goes far back to antiquity, modern wood panel doors are as near as your local number dealer.

Almost $10 billion will be spent in the next 10 years to build or modernize urban rapid transit systems. Already, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Chicago are modernizing their systems with fast, light-weight cars of nickel stainless steel.

Wax Or Not To Wax, That Is The Question

AP Newsfeatures

Question: I am completely confused. I bought some vinyl asbestos tiles a few weeks ago and laid them on our kitchen floor.

I asked my wife the other day why she hadn't applied wax to the floor, as we had been told to do by the dealer from whom the tiles were purchased. She said a neighbor of hers told her that these tiles needed no waxing.

I saw an article which told about the kind of wax to use and how often it should be used. But when I showed it to my wife, she pulled out another clipping which said that waxing was not necessary. Please—should we or shouldn't we?

ANSWER: Don't be upset by your confusion. There are differences of opinion among the authorities, too.

Of course, the wax manufacturers (and they include most of the tile producers) say that wax makes a floor look better and wear longer. We looked through some literature put out by the Asphalt and Vinyl Asbestos Tile Institute for professional maintenance men who take care of such floors in institutional, industrial and commercial buildings.

In one place, we found this comment: "A well-cared-for vinyl asbestos or asphalt tile floor has a patina that can't be matched for beauty by any other floor covering. Regular buffing is all that it takes to maintain it."

Yet, full instructions were given for how such floors should be waxed, this section starting with the words, "Where wax is desired." It thus appears that the institute regards it as a matter of choice.

INCIDENTALLY, a fuel gas company in Charleston, W. Va., which installed 139,000 square feet of vinyl asbestos tile in an 11-story building, conducted a maintenance survey after the floors had been in use for five years.

The report noted a very low degree of wear and said that the floors were maintained by "daily sweeping, damp mopping twice a week and buffing every two weeks to maintain the high gloss desired."

The report added that the floors had never been "waxed or treated with any type of floor finish." All this does nothing to clear up your confusion.

Our advice, therefore, is to keep the floor clean at all times by sweeping regularly, damp mopping occasionally and buffing once every two or three weeks.

After doing this for a couple of months, buy a good quality wax (designed for vinyl asbestos tiles) and apply according to the instructions on the container. Follow the wax manufacturer's directions regarding regular maintenance.

You and your wife can then make up your own minds whether you prefer waxed or unwaxed floors.

There is a certain formula for resetting a loose brick. In the first place, the loose brick should be removed and all patches of mortar chipped off until the brick is clean. It then should be placed in a bucket of water. The recess from which the brick is taken should be thoroughly cleaned out and all dust brushed out of it.

The next step is to soak the bottom and sides of the recess with water until it will not absorb any more. This is to keep the dry surfaces from drawing all the water out of the new patching concrete and causing it to shrink and crack when it dries.

When this preparation has been made you can open the box and mix the concrete in a bowl or bucket. It should be spread evenly all around the recess.

The brick should be removed from the water and buttered with a new mix, then set in place and pressed firmly until it is even with the surrounding surface. Excess patching cement which squeezes out should be cleaned off. The repair should be covered with a damp cloth for four days.

Program Joined By Power Firm

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — The Monongahela Power Co. has entered into a bulk power reliability agreement with other electric utilities from coast to coast as part of the newly - formed National Electric Reliability Council (NERC).

C. G. McVay, president of Monongahela Power, pointed out in his announcement of the membership in the council, that, across the nation, the average electric customer receives uninterrupted service more than 99.98 per cent of the time.

Membership in the National Electric Reliability Council, McVay said, is made up of 12 regional utility organizations. Monongahela and its sister companies in the Allegheny Power System, along with 23 other companies, belong to the East Central Area Reliability (ECAR) coordination agreement. J. Lee Rice Jr., chairman of the board of APS, is immediate past chairman of the ECAR executive board.

Suggestions Are Given For A Finished Room

By ANDY LANG

If there's one place you can exercise your individuality, it's in the creation of a finished room in the attic or basement.

Because you generally are starting from scratch, you don't have to choose a motif that seems to fit the size and shape of the room.

There's usually enough available space to construct the room the way you want it to make it suitable for the intended purpose. The materials you choose for the walls, ceiling and floor then become part of the overall atmosphere rather than a base for the decorations.

You can be as far out as you want in such a room without fear of being thought eccentric.

In fact, guests will admire daring and originality in the makeup of an attic or basement room, whereas a display of the same qualities in the preparation of a regular room in the house might be considered outlandish, bizarre or ostentatious.

—:—

IF YOU'RE a landlubber with a secret desire to go to sea, that extra room can be done in nautical decor, using such things as a ship's steering wheel, a compass, porthole windows, a rope banister and so on.

Like ultramodern furnishings but haven't had the nerve to use them up to now? Here's your chance, remembering to start with the room materials themselves.

Want to bring the outside inside? A ceiling that looks like the sky, including a sprinkling of stars, is a good start in that direction, with resilient floor tiles designed to stimulate rugged stones.

Not until you look and inquire will you discover what a great variety of products are manufactured to satisfy the wishes of persons who want something different.

Whether you are thinking about an extra room in any of the previously mentioned themes, or in a motif relating to sports, the circus, the rodeo, music, a hunting lodge, recreation art, Early American, Latin American, a nightclub or anything else that strikes your fancy, you're sure to find accounterments that will help you to accomplish your objective.

IN SELECTING from among the almost unbelievably large number of wall materials now on the market, you'll have to decide whether you want your particular choice to be prefinished.

Doors Have Language That's All Their Own

Like most building materials, doors have a terminology all their own. Words like cornice, pilaster and finial may be Greek (or Latin) to home owners, but to builders each word defines a particular part of an entrance.

Translation: a cornice is a horizontal projection of molded wood set on two slender columns or pilasters, and generally crowned with an ornamental ball called a finial.

Other door terms that are common vernacular to builders, but may be unfamiliar to laymen, are:

Rails — the horizontal framework of a door.

Stiles — the vertical framework of a door.

Crossbuck — an x-shaped bar design like that used in the bottom half of a Dutch door. Also known as a St. Andrew's Cross.

Traditional designs like the St. Andrew's Cross — originally created by skilled craftsmen to mirror old - world religious superstitions (holy signs were supposed to keep evil spirits from entering a house) — are reproduced today in modern, precision - manufactured panel doors of ponderosa pine.

The symbolism may have faded, but the beauty of design remains. For instance, one of the most popular designs is the Colonial Cross and Bible door. It has four upper panels representing a cross, and two lower panels that symbolize an open Bible.

Sidelights — narrow glass panels set on either side of a door. They're ornamental, but also serve to admit light to the inside foyer.

Fan lights — glass panels that resemble an open fan. They are set either in the top of the door, or in a frame above it.

Cathedral lights — ornamental round - topped little windows modeled after stained glass church windows. Generally set in the top of the door.

Escutcheon — the plate into which the doorknob and keyhole are set. The word derives from shields on which heraldic arms were displayed.

Such unfamiliar names for ordinary door parts indicate the ancient history of one of our most taken - for - granted house features. But, while door talk goes far back to antiquity, modern wood panel doors are as near as your local number dealer.

Almost $10 billion will be spent in the next 10 years to build or modernize urban rapid transit systems. Already, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Chicago are modernizing their systems with fast, light-weight cars of nickel stainless steel.

Wax Or Not To Wax, That Is The Question

AP Newsfeatures

Question: I am completely confused. I bought some vinyl asbestos tiles a few weeks ago and laid them on our kitchen floor.

I asked my wife the other day why she hadn't applied wax to the floor, as we had been told to do by the dealer from whom the tiles were purchased. She said a neighbor of hers told her that these tiles needed no waxing.

I saw an article which told about the kind of wax to use and how often it should be used. But when I showed it to my wife, she pulled out another clipping which said that waxing was not necessary. Please—should we or shouldn't we?

ANSWER: Don't be upset by your confusion. There are differences of opinion among the authorities, too.

Of course, the wax manufacturers (and they include most of the tile producers) say that wax makes a floor look better and wear longer. We looked through some literature put out by the Asphalt and Vinyl Asbestos Tile Institute for professional maintenance men who take care of such floors in institutional, industrial and commercial buildings.

In one place, we found this comment: "A well-cared-for vinyl asbestos or asphalt tile floor has a patina that can't be matched for beauty by any other floor covering. Regular buffing is all that it takes to maintain it."

Yet, full instructions were given for how such floors should be waxed, this section starting with the words, "Where wax is desired." It thus appears that the institute regards it as a matter of choice.

INCIDENTALLY, a fuel gas company in Charleston, W. Va., which installed 139,000 square feet of vinyl asbestos tile in an 11-story building, conducted a maintenance survey after the floors had been in use for five years.

The report noted a very low degree of wear and said that the floors were maintained by "daily sweeping, damp mopping twice a week and buffing every two weeks to maintain the high gloss desired."

The report added that the floors had never been "waxed or treated with any type of floor finish." All this does nothing to clear up your confusion.

Our advice, therefore, is to keep the floor clean at all times by sweeping regularly, damp mopping occasionally and buffing once every two or three weeks.

After doing this for a couple of months, buy a good quality wax (designed for vinyl asbestos tiles) and apply according to the instructions on the container. Follow the wax manufacturer's directions regarding regular maintenance.

You and your wife can then make up your own minds whether you prefer waxed or unwaxed floors.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANTIQUES

QUESTION: How come antiques are fancier than the things we have today?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Our pictures show three periods or styles which have affected the appearance of American houses, furniture and clothing. The Colonial Period was before we had become an individual nation. At first, as in the picture, houses were severely simple but strongly built. Furniture was also simple but showed the touch of the craftsman. Such furniture is highly prized today. As the new nation emerged furnishings became more elaborate. American styles after 1837, when Queen Victoria of England commenced her reign, were influenced by the old world and became highly elaborate. Houses were swamped in lace curtains, tassels and scrollwork furniture. The Paris Exposition of 1925 introduced a new style, which we call modern. It was a rebellion from the scrollwork of the Victorian period, and introduced straight lines and open, undecorated areas. Objects of modern style can be produced economically by mass manufacturing methods and seem more suitable to a machine age than Victorian fripperies. If a modern house seems a bit bare when you first move in, a bit of family life will soon warm it up (lower picture).

Junior Editors Quiz on ANTIQUES

QUESTION: How come antiques are fancier than the things we have today?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Our pictures show three periods or styles which have affected the appearance of American houses, furniture and clothing. The Colonial Period was before we had become an individual nation. At first, as in the picture, houses were severely simple but strongly built. Furniture was also simple but showed the touch of the craftsman. Such furniture is highly prized today. As the new nation emerged furnishings became more elaborate. American styles after 1837, when Queen Victoria of England commenced her reign, were influenced by the old world and became highly elaborate. Houses were swamped in lace curtains, tassels and scrollwork furniture. The Paris Exposition of 1925 introduced a new style, which we call modern. It was a rebellion from the scrollwork of the Victorian period, and introduced straight lines and open, undecorated areas. Objects of modern style can be produced economically by mass manufacturing methods and seem more suitable to a machine age than Victorian fripperies. If a modern house seems a bit bare when you first move in, a bit of family life will soon warm it up (lower picture).
